It All Depends On Whose Ox Is Gored

Guay Trial Starts

QUEBEC (CP)—A pretty airline office attendant testified today that J. Albert Guay bought a $10,000 insurance policy on the life of his wife three days before she was killed with 22 others in a plane crash Sept. 9.

The witness was Lucille Levesque, employee of Canadian Pacific Airlines, who appeared as a witness at Guay's preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering his wife.

Guay is alleged to have arranged for a time-bomb to be planted aboard the plane. The Crown maintains the explosion occurred about 40 miles east of Quebec, sending the plane crashing into rugged, wooded country.

Miss Levesque said she sold Guay a ticket for his wife's passage from Quebec to Baie Comeau, Que., Sept. 6, three days before the flight that ended in disaster.

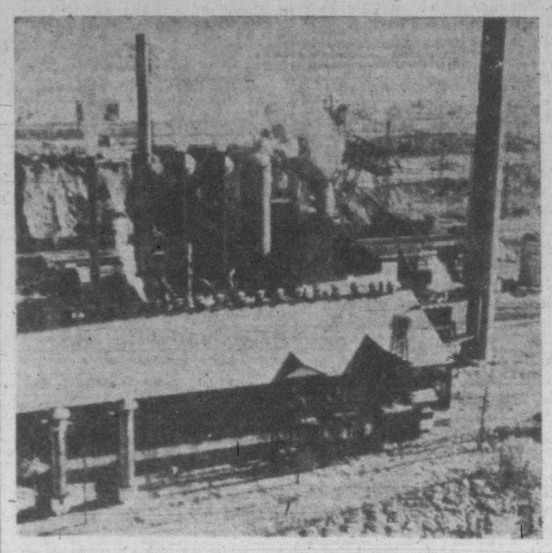
ASKED RATES

She declared that at the same time Guay inquired about passenger-insurance rates and was informed they were 25 cents for $5,000 insurance, 50 cents for $10,000 and $1.25 for $25,000.

Guay thought $10,000 was "sufficient' and bought a policy when he paid $40.40 for his wife's fare.

The hearing which opened before a court room packed a half-hour before the start with a chattering crowd.

People had gathered earlier on the sidewalk outside the court house hoping for a glimpse of the 32-year-old jeweler.



Active Steel Plant

While other steel plants in the U.S. are idled by the steelworkers' strike, smoke belches from the stacks of the Portsmouth Steel Corporation's blast furnaces at Portsmouth, Ohio. The company agreed to the terms of the President's fact-finding board and is the only active plant in the country.—(NEA Photo)

Houston, Oil City, Temporarily Cut Off By 100-Miler

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — A tropical hurricane hit Houston today and drove 50,000 persons from their homes in 10 cities as it roared northward out of the Gulf of Mexico.

The 750,000 residents of Houston, Texas' largest city, cowered in their homes and basements or in public shelters as the storm screamed overhead.

Rain, driven by wind gusts up to 100 miles a hour, swept the area in horizontal sheets.

Power and telephone lines were knocked down throughout the area and a network of radio amateurs went into operation to provide communications with the Red Cross midwest disaster headquarters at St. Louis.

All electric lights were out in the towns of Freeport and Angleton, south of here, and wide sections of Houston were blacked out as light poles and power lines fell under the storm's fury.

Plate glass windows in the downtown area were broken.

As the storm swept inland, it lashed at many big and small towns, including Galveston, Danbury, Hoskins, Arcadia, Sugar Land, Alvin and Manvel.

The hurricane centre passed just west of Houston, sweeping the city's outskirts with 90-mile-an-hour winds. Within 25 miles of the centre, winds were estimated at about 100 miles an hour. Downtown Houston gusts frequently approached 80 miles an hour.

Winds To Lessen Moving Inland

The weather bureau warned that the hurricane would reach Palestine and Lufkin, Tex., by early afternoon, but said the winds would diminish as the storm moved inland.

As it swept over Houston, the storm hurled rain against buildings so hard that water literally streamed through the closed window sashes.

So much rain sloshed into the Houston United Press office that teletypes were shorted and workers received electric shocks as they tried to transmit news of the hurricane.

The weather bureau warned that although the storm had moved inland, seas and winds were still dangerously high along the Louisiana and eastern Texas Gulf coasts.

"Precautions should not be relaxed . . . until all danger is past," the bureau said.

U.S. Soon May Double Its Output Of A-Bombs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — President Truman will ask Congress to double the United States atom bomb production program as an answer to Russia's possession of that weapon, the Nashville Tennessean reported today.

At the request of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, the President will ask for emergency funds before Congress adjourns, the paper said in a copyrighted Washington dispatch.

The A.E.C., the article said, wants the President to ask Congress to double its 1950 appropriation of $378,000,000 and to approve $30,000,000 to $60,000,000 for construction during the present fiscal year.

(Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep.-Iowa), said last week in Washington that appropriations for the U.S. atomic weapon program allowed in advance for Russian developments.

(The program from the start, he added, had been based on the assumption that Russia sooner or later would produce atomic bombs.

(Congress already has voted about $5,000,000,000.)

The A.E.C. has been working on plans for a tremendous expansion in bomb production for the last six months, according to the article in the Tennessean, and now feels that the urgency of the armament race with Russia demands immediate action because of Russia's claim she has the bomb.

Prague Shootings Bring Death To 3, Injuries To Others

PRAGUE (Reuter)—Three men were killed and several others were injured in shooting incidents in this Czechslovak capital last Saturday night.

First-hand reports received today confirmed rumors circulating in Prague since Saturday.

No official statement was available.

One man, before he died of bullet wounds in the stomach, said: "Comrades, why have you done this to me?"

Eyewitnesses in one incident said tommy-gun fire came from a car carrying uniformed passengers. They sprayed into people waiting for a public transport vehicle outside Prague's big Pankrac Prison.

One man was killed there and another seriously injured.

The first incident occurrend in a dark street in the Prague district of Ziskovonce, known as "the Red suburb" from the number of Communists there.

Three unidentified men were walking along in the darkness beside the wall of a closed Jewish cemetery.

A black car came up behind them and its occupants sprayed the group with bullets. One man died on the spot. A second died soon afterwards.

Soviet Idea West's Economic Collapse May Be Own Undoing

OTTAWA (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today Russia's assumption that the west's economy must inevitably collapse will eventually "be her own undoing."

"This assumption," the Briton told a press conference, "argues that the west never learns anything . . . I don't think we're going to have slumps inevitably arising."

The western powers were determined that they would not be ruined by economic collapse. There had been "a little currency disturbance recently" but it might have been avoided "if we'd realized earlier what it was."

Unemployment Mounts On U.S. Strike Impact

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UP)—Unemployment mounted rapidly today as the impact of the steel and coal strikes spread by the hour through this nation's staggering industrial machine.

The number of strike-idled may hit 1,250,000 by the end of the week and 2,000,000 by Nov. 1 if the strikes continue.

As workers in allied industries were being furloughed by the thousands, new efforts were under way to end both the steel and coal walkout, which stemmed from pension disputes.

In Washington, top-secret conferences between federal mediators and presidential assistant John R. Steelman were believed to have laid the groundwork for renewed efforts to settle the strikes. Some government action, perhaps from the White House itself, was expected by the end of the week.

Officials of the United Mine Workers meanwhile returned to the conference table today with the southern operators at Bluefield, W.Va. Contract talks with the big commercial northern and western operators will be resumed tomorrow at nearby White Sulphur Springs.

GUNPLAY IN COAL AREAS

On the eve of the negotiations, new outbursts of gunplay rocked the violence-ridden coal fields. Non-union coal miners ambushed a group of union men at Pikeville, Tenn., wounding three of them with rifle and shotgun fire. Two other union men were reported missing after the encounter.

At the same time local officials at Grundy, Va., were investigating the killing of a non-union truck driver. He was crushed by a boulder that crashed down from a mountainside, and police said they suspected foul play.

In Pennsylvania, warrants were issued for the arrest of eight men after a band of 110 pickets had overturned a supply house and damaged equipment at a non-union strip mine in Elk County.

Russia Out To Challenge Chinese Delegates In U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS (UP)—Russia may challenge the right of the Chinese Nationalist government to sit in the United Nations within 48 hours, a well-placed source in the Soviet bloc said today.

The Soviet delegation is expected to make its challenge in behalf of recognition of the newly-formed Communist "Chinese people's republic" before the U.N.'s credentials committee, which decides whether a delegation has a legal right to sit. The Russians are expected to argue that the Kuomintang government now functioning at Canton is not representative of the Chinese people.

"Action before the credentials committee may come very soon," the Soviet source said. "It may come as soon as the next 24 to 48 hours."

Labor Organ Denies Early British General Election

LONDON (CP)—The pro-Labor Daily Herald today threw cold water on talk of a close-at-hand British general election—but conceded changing political conditions might bring an early vote.

Ernest Jay, political correspondent of the Labor Party's organ wrote:

"On the known facts and circumstances of the situation, both home and international, there will be no general election this year."

But Jay added that "unforseeable circumstances" might arise which would make an early election desirable.

The Labor government's full terms does not end until next July, though the government can call a general election at any time.

Talk has been current recently that Labor might call such a "snap" election soon, hoping to secure another term before rising commodity prices—expected in the wake of currency devaluation—could turn voters against the ruling party.

Edmonton Has Big Building Plans

EDMONTON (CP)—Despite opposition from two of the city's three commissioners, Edmonton's city council decided Monday night to place before the ratepayers Nov. 2 money by-laws calling for a $1,500,000 civic auditorium, a $100,000 market building and a $150,000 swimming pool.

While overriding recommendations of Commissioners John Hodgson and D. B. Menzies on these by-laws, the council agreed to postpone for one year a $1,600,000 extension to the Royal Alexandra Hospital.

The third commissioner, Mayor H. D. Ainlay, did not concur with the other two commissioners on their proposal to delete the auditorium, market and swimming pool by-laws from the 1950 capital estimates.

Typhoon Kills Three

MANILA (AP)—A typhoon swirled toward the China coast today after sideswiping northern Luzon in the Philippines. Three persons were killed and several were injured. Two women were swept away by a flooding river and a watchman was buried alive in a landslide.

Calls Aid

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Distress signals were picked up today from the 1,500-ton Danish motorship Disko in Arctic waters. The Greenland administration authority announced the Disko, with a crew of 31 and around 50 passengers aboard, had broadcast SOS signals from a position near the south tip of Greenland.

Noronic Captain Gives Evidence At Inquiry

TORONTO (CP)—Capt. William Taylor of Sarnia, Ont., master of the Ss. Noronic, took the witness stand today at federal inquiry into the disastrous fire which swept through his ship with the loss of at least 130 lives.

The grey-haired, 66-year-old captain said he was unable to produce his captain's certificate. It was lost in the fire.

He said he had been in command of the Noronic for eight years.

Early questioning of the captain pertained solely to the outline of the ship, position of stairways, doors and so on.

He did not reply to a question whether instructions were issued to passengers on the existence of stairways in the crew's section and how they could be reached in an emergency.

Earlier the inquiry heard S. J. Orth, a survivor from Detroit, testify that before the fire he had complained of hilarity and late merry-making on the ship.

Orth, an insurance agent, said parties aboard the Noronic went on until as late as 2.30 a.m.

He said he, his wife and two other members of his family boarded the ship at Detroit Sept. 14. All occupied cabins on C deck where the fire is believed to have started.

Orth said behavior of passengers from the time his party got on was typically that of an excursion crowd. "There was some hilarity aboard. In the ordinary sense the behavior was quite satisfactory."

East German State May Be Set Up Before Oct. 20

BERLIN (UP)—Top Communist officials in the Soviet zone of Germany are preparing to establish an East German state by proclamation before Oct. 20, reliable sources said today.

German sources close to the Russian Military Government said Otto Grotewohl, co-chairman of the Communist Socialist Unity Party, would be appointed chancellor in the new state.

These sources said a foreign ministry would be included in the new government. Soviet satellites and Russia would immediately recognize the East German state, they said, and there would be an exchange of ambassadors.

U.S. President Watches Airborne Manoeuvres

FORT BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Twenty thousand troops of the 5th Corps passed in review for President Truman and high army officials today. A mass drop of airborne infantry and heavy artillery ready for instant battle action followed.

The President arrived by plane from Washington to witness a day-long program of airborne operations demonstrating the latest tricks in moving fully-equipped ground forces by air to capture an "airhead."

Britain's Dollar Drain Cut By £10,000,000

LONDON (Reuter)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, disclosed tonight that Britain's dollar spending was reduced by £10,000,000 in the third quarter of this year as compared with the second quarter. In United States dollars this is $28,000,000, but the figure was quoted at the pre-devaluation rate.

He also disclosed that in the 12 days following Sept. 18—devaluation day—Britain's reserves rose by £20,000,000 as a result of money reaching the country after the alteration of the exchange rate.

Addressing bankers and merchants at a dinner given by the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Stafford gave these figures, which he explained were quoted at the old rate of exchange of $4.03 to the pound.

Britain's deficit for the first quarter of 1949 was £82,000,000, and for the second £157,000,000. The third quarter figure was £133,000,000.

Against that £133,000,000 was £7,000,000 drawn on Canadian credit and £71,000,000 of E.C.A. reimbursements and other Marshall aid.

Total spending was thus reduced to £55,000,000 for the third quarter compared with £65,000,000 in the second quarter.

Resultant figure of reserves at the old parity was £351,000,000 compared with £406,000,000 at the end of June.

'Bad Enough', Says Cripps

Sir Stafford declared these figures were "not so bad as some people may have feared."

"But they are quite bad enough," he continued.

"They disclose a continuing state of affairs up to Sept. 18 which could not have been tolerated longer. Even taking the quarter as a whole, the annual rate of deficit is £532,000,000 a year—at the old rate of exchange. This is an impossible burden and one which would very rapidly have exhausted our reserves."

The Chancellor said the only deduction to be made from these figures was that there was "as great and urgent a need as ever to make rapid progress towards diminishing our dollar drain."

He warned that "as a result of obligations under the Atlantic Pact and Western Union," expenditure on defence was "almost certain to exceed the original estimates by quite an appreciable amount."

Before Court Today

J. ALBERT GUAY

Witness Asserts Guay Asked Him To Poison Wife

QUEBEC (CP)—A witness at the preliminary hearing of J. Albert Guay, charged with murder in the Sept. 9 bomb-plot air disaster, said today that Guay had asked him to give poison to Mrs. Guay.

The 32-year-old jeweler is charged with murdering his wife, one of 23 killed when a bomb exploded in a Canadian Pacific Airlines plane, causing it to crash near here three weeks ago.

The witness, Lucien Gareau, a young needle worker, testified that Guay made him a proposition last April.

He said Guay had some poison in a bag and some cherry wine and asked Gareau to give it to Mrs. Guay. Gareau said Guay told him he would pay him $500.

The needle worker said he refused and then Guay offered him $50 to keep "his mouth shut."

SAYS $100 OFFERED

Gareau said he met Guay again nine days after the disaster. He said Guay told him "something like the death of his wife was good riddance" and that there was some "insurance."

He said Guay then offered him $100 to "shut up" about what he knew.

Gareau testified late in the afternoon of the preliminary hearing after a long string of witnesses had testified about Guay buying an airline ticket and insurance on his wife. Other witnesses told of the investigation of the plane wreckage at Sault au Cochon 40 miles east of here.

Machinery At Pennsylvania Mine Wrecked

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gunfire and death broke the brief calm in the strife-scarred mine fields as the twin strikes of 900,000 United States steel and coal workers continued today at a staggering cost of more than $3,000,000 a day.

Violence flared in Tennessee. A Virginia miner was killed in a rock fall. Pickets wrecked machinery at a Pennsylvania bituminous pit.

The economy of the United States staggered and creaked in the wake of the two-pronged crippling shutdown.

John L. Lewis's 400,000 soft-coal diggers have been strike-idle since Sept. 19. That's 16 payless days.

And 500,000 of Phillip Murray's C.I.O. steelworkers last Saturday struck at 95 per cent of the country's steel mills and iron ore mines.

Pension are involved in both disputes.

Steel picketing is orderly and quiet—everywhere.

But there has been little peace in the U.S. coal fields.

Union Miners Ambushed

Matt Bunch, United Mine Workers' international representative, said 20 union miners on a "peaceful mission" were ambushed at Pikeville, Tenn., by non-union miners. Three men were shot, one severely. Two others were missing. No arrests were made.

At Grundy, Va., Johnnie Compton, 23, was killed in a rock fall that buried the truck in which he was hauling non-union mined coal. An employee of a strike-bound mine was questioned several hours, then freed.

Coal is being dug.

One-fifth of Lewis's miners—80,000 anthracite diggers in eastern Pennsylvania and about 200,000 bituminous miners in 10 western states—went back to the pits Monday.

Lewis himself ordered them back since their output—mostly for home use—won't hamper contract talks with U.S. mine owners.

Additionally, 15,000 non-union miners and 15,000 A.F.L. Progressive Union miners in Illinois are working.

A few steel mills are operating. Either they came to terms with Murray or they have independent unions.

No Fatalities Reported In Roaring Texas Storm

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A vious hurricane smashed across e Texas coast, hit Galveston nd Houston a walloping blow nd sped inland early today.

Winds of 100 miles an hour hipped the area between Freeort and Metagorda—initial conct point—and lashed the sprawlg metropolis of Houston at 80 90 miles an hour.

The hurricane smashed into exas' biggest city—its populaon is estimated at more than 0,000—and the whiplashing inds buffeted the city for more an an hour.

There were no fatalities.

The damage the hurricane ailed in its wake was not imediately known. But the part of the coast it first hit Monday night is a rich one. Immediately in its northward path are cities, towns, oil and agricultural sections which had a population of about 1,000,000 and an estimated $2,500,000,000 valuation before phenomenal wartime growth.

Hurricane warnings may have cheated the big winds of human casualties.

Most towns in its path were buttoned up, many residents had fled to inland cities. Five thousand persons sought shelter in Houston's city auditorium and Sam Houston coliseum.

Freeport, Galveston, Texas City, Angleton, Alvin and many other smaller towns were in the hurricane's path as it roared in from the gulf of Mexico.

Two New States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii early next year—if the Hawaiian dock strike is settled—was predicted today by Delegate Bartlett of Alaska.

Bartlett said he believed both statehood bills will be acted upon soon after the next session of Congress convenes in January.

$12,000 More Given Diggon Firm By Ottawa Judgment

OTTAWA (CP)—A Victoria wholesale firm today was granted an extra $12,000 compensation for having to move to make way for a new federal post office.

This award was granted in a Supreme Court of Canada judgment and is additional to $120,000 previously awarded the firm, Diggon-Hibben Ltd.

The firm, a wholesale supplier of stationery, business supplies and office furniture, had its property expropriated by the government so a new federal building, to house a post office and other government offices, could be built.

The Crown offered $99,670 and Diggon-Hibben claimed $232,165. They based the claim on $132,451 for land value; $4,000 for seeking and planning new premises; $41,710 in moving costs, and $54,004 for increasing costs of operation resulting from the move.

The firm was awarded $120,000 for expropriation of the property by Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson in the Exchequer Court and appealed this decision. In today's judgment, the appeal was allowed with costs and 10 per cent on the value allowed for the land was added to the $120,000.

J. A. Byers of Victoria conducted the appeal in Ottawa last February.

Bamfield Lifeboat Rescues U.S. Craft On West Coast

A Canadian government lifeat rescued a United States fish g boat in distress off the west ast of Vancouver Island early is morning.

The R.C.A.F. reported the 47-ot American fishing vessel entified as the Lene was towed Bamfield at 5 a.m. today. The ew, understood to number six, s believed safe.

The R.C.A.F.'s air-sea rescue uadron reported the Lene had nt out a distress signal at 10 o'clock Monday night to the U.S. Coast Guard. She gave her position as five miles south of Cape Beale, near Bamfield, and reported her engine had broken down.

When the R.C.A.F. received no response to its request for any available ships to go to the aid of the Lene the government lifeboat at Bamfield set out and towed the disabled fishing craft back to Bamfield in the pre-dawn hours.

Guards His Books

LONDON (AP) — Herbert Morrison, deputy Prime Minister, told the National Book League today "I have a sense of private property in books."

"I don't mind if people confiscate my house, or my watch, or my bed," he said, "but I will fight to the death people who thieve my books, or socialize my books."

Leschenko, Arrested As Spy, Deported

OTTAWA (CP) — Dimitri Leschenko, arrested in Calgary last spring as a Russian spy, was deported from Canada in September, it was learned today.

Leschenko, a former Red Army officer, came to Canada in 1948 as a displaced person. He was working in a Calgary flour mill when arrested.

Immigration officials said Leschenko sailed from Halifax Sept. 7 aboard the Ss. General Heintzleman for the British zone of Germany from where he started his trip to the Dominion.

He was arrested by police and turned over to immigration officials in Winnipeg who said he had entered Canada under false pretences.

Shouts From Crowd As Guay Seen

QUEBEC (CP)—Several persons in the crowd outside the courthouse shouted "kill him" as J. Albert Guay was escorted inside for preliminary hearing today on a murder charge arising from the Quebec air line disaster. Guay is accused of having a time-bomb planted aboard the plane which crashed, killing his wife and 22 others.

A few shouted "rat," and a few women tried to kick him as he was led through the crowd and several men shook their fists at him.

He appeared calm as police opened a way through the crowd, but at one time he turned to several who shouted at him and said "No, oh no, no."

Power Line Planned To Link Duncan With Lake Cowichan

The B.C. Power Commission today announced plans for the construction of a power line from from Duncan to Lake Cowichan to provide the recently acquired Lake Cowichan distribution system with power from the commission's big John Hart Development at Campbell River.

The commission began operating the Lake Cowichan system Oct. 1, having acquired the distribution system from the Lake Cowichan Electric Co. Ltd. by expropriation for an agreed sum of $68,000. For the time being Lake Cowichan village and adjacent rural customers will continue to receive power from the Hillcrest sawmill's steam-turbine plant.

Acquisition of the Lake Cowichan Electric Co. Ltd. adds 428 customers to the commission's lists for Vancouver Island, bringing the total to more than 19,000.

Promise Fulfilled

Chest Campaign In High Gear

With close to 700 volunteer canvassers on the job, Greater Victoria's 1949 Community Chest Campaign, which got under way Monday, is now in high gear.

Campaign plans were made well in advance this year so there would be no delay at the actual opening. Officials have succeeded in this regard.

"We are very pleased with the organizational work that has been done," Walter Walker, who is joint chairman of the campaign with F. E. Winslow, said today. All our canvassers were ready and eager to make an early start. They are willing to see this thing through. Evrything now hinges on the reception given them by the public."

Objective of this year's drive is $150,000. The campaign is set to continue until Oct. 22.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

GARGOYLES AND GINGERBREAD

I HAPPENED to be in an office high up in a building on Government Street not long ago, looking towards the scene of the demolition of the buildings which are to make way for the new post office.

And it suddenly struck me how much rooftops and exteriors have changed since many of those buildings west of Government Street were built. Chimney's, for instance, aren't anything like as numerous as they used to be, nor as variable in size and shape.

Gone, too, are the days when buildings ran to ornate, colonnaded tower effects on their rooftops—from which, no doubt, Victoria's early residents scanned the seas and the passing scene below—like the one I noticed gleaming in a comparatively new coat of aluminum paint.

MORE FUNCTIONAL

VICTORIAN days—and I speak in terms of the era as well as in the more confined sense pertaining to this city—saw a sprouting of fungus in the shape of "gingerbread" on houses. It ran to carved curlicues and ornamental oddities, such as are still to be seen on pioneer places in James Bay.

Of recent years the trend is more to what the architects call the functional, so much so that the pendulum has gone to the other extreme and produced what I call clinical effects. And while I didn't like the gingerbread era, I can't say I care much for its more modern substitute—the goldfish bowl era.

So I sighed a little when I saw the ruthless hands of the wreckers tearing down more reminders of the old, leisurely Victoria which is rapidly disappearing into the limbo of forgotten things.

GARGOYLES GONE

AS I MUSED, my thoughts wandered to the old Hotel Vancouver, another British Columbia victim of modern progress. And I recalled the gargoyles which adorned its roofline, or perhaps I should have said pseudo gargoyles, for they were mere adaptations of the genuine thing.

The real thing is a grotesquely-carved projection of demoniac design to be seen by the thousands jutting out from the medieval churches and cathedrals of Europe, such as Notre Dame, in Paris, for instance. As the old rhyme had it:

"The Gargoyle often makes his perch
On a cathedral or a church,
Where, mid ecclesiastic style,
He smiles an early Gothic smile."

SYMBOLIC MONSTERS

SMILES or not, the European gargoyles are grim reminders of a more naive age when these symbolic monsters reflected pagan fears, for they represented the artless effort of medieval peoples to imprison evil in stone and thus rob the devils of their power.

This fearsome vagary of Gothic architecture is rarely, if ever, seen in Canada. And those of the old Hotel Vancouver, while carved by stone-carvers from Europe who were familiar with the medieval variety, were modified to suit the tastes of a technological and less superstitious age.

I recall that its fabled heads, suggestive of winged horses from Greece, reincarnations of dragons from Babylon, and cats from the basin of the Euphrates, leaned out over the sidewalks side by side with stylized heads of Canadian moose and buffalo.

MOOSE AND MUMPS

APROPOS of which I also remember hearing a story about one of the moose heads atop the hotel. Sent by crate from the Old Country, the stone moose arrived with a badly broken jaw.

So someone did a dental repair job on it, by drilling a hole through the cheek and putting an iron bar through it, then bandaging it as if the moose had the mumps.

It evidently worked, for the old moose kept faithful guard over the mainland city's crossroads, its health unimpaired—until the wrecker came along and wrote "finis" to the story.

Extensive Damage In Morning Crash; Driver In Jail

Cyril Stevens, 238 Richmond Avenue, was arrested by city police early this morning on a charge of being intoxicated while in control of a car following a crash that had an ending in Ross Bay Cemetery and left a path of damage.

He was remanded to Oct. 7 without plea in city court when the charge was read against him. Counsel is Joseph McKenna.

City policemen reported Stevens was proceeding west on Fairfield Road at about 5.15 and at Thurlow Road left the traveled portion, mounted the south curb and crashed sideways into a power pole bearing a street light and snapped it completely off four feet from the ground.

Continuing, the panel truck went through the cemetery hedge and finally wound up in collision with a tree. The severed pole in the meantime came crashing down on the right rear end of the truck.

Police had B.C. Electric workmen shut off the power as the severed live wires were creating a danger to life and creating a fire hazard. Homes in the area were without power for about 1½ hours.

Police took Stevens to Jubilee Hospital, where he was examined for injuries. He complained of a sore eye and painful right shoulder. Physicians could find no injuries.

Police estimate damage to the vehicle to be about $500. It was towed to the city impounding yard.

Asks Bond Campaign For Foreign Funds

OTTAWA (CP)—Harold E. Winch, leader of the C.C.F. opposition in the B.C. Legislature Monday night proposed that Canada hold a bond campaign to raise credits for the United Kingdom and other European countries.

Newly-returned from a three month tour of Britain, continental Europe and Israel, Mr. Winch made the proposal in an address at a public meeting in Woodsworth House, C.C.F. national headquarters.

He suggested the Dominion hold a bond campaign similar to the wartime victory bond drives. Funds raised from the campaign would be extended as credits to the U.K. and other deserving countries to enable them to buy food and other essentials in Canada.

"We provided those countries with weapons to wage war," said Mr. Winch. "Now let us provide them with materials to wage peace."

The west coast C.C.F. leader also said he had returned from Britain "convinced the people there still desire to retain the Labor government."

Victoria Poets Hold Recital Of Works

A poetry recital, conducted by Clara Hill Maunsell, poetry group convener, was held by members of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Authors' Association at the Arts Centre, with Audrey Alexandra Brown, noted Canadian poet, taking a leading role.

Local contributors of poems included Mrs. Maunsell, Kathleen M. Clarke, Eugenie Perry, Sheila McIvor, Jean Mutter, Doris Ferne, Mrs. Robin Breach, Myrtle Lane, Molly Ross, Mrs. Jean Bone, Eva Ray, Mrs. Annie Cowan, Mrs. D. Holman, Mrs. Dorothy White, Millicent Frampton, Mrs. Frances Ebbs-Canavan, J. T. Williamson and H. W. Maunsell.

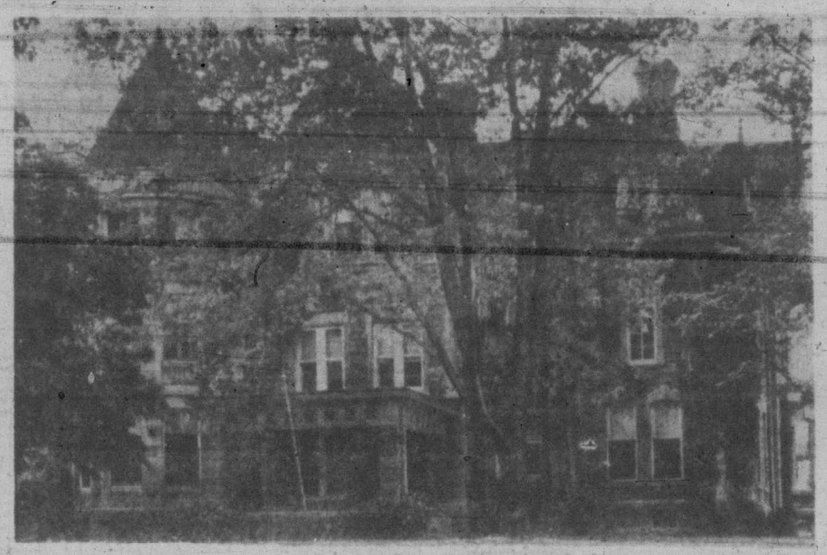
Resigns Leadership

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Resignation of Farquhar Oliver as leader of the Ontario Liberal Party was accepted "with regret" during the week-end by the management committee of the party. He will continue as House leader of the Ontario Liberals in the Legislature. No date was set for a convention to choose a new leader.

Town Celebrates

PRESTON, Ont. (CP) — This Ontario community is starting its second 50 years as a town. It has just celebrated its anniversary with a golden jubilee banquet and a 50-candle birthday cake.

TACOMA, Wash. (UP) — Recruiting officers here were stumped for a time when Henry L. Ong presented three character references to enlist in the regular army. The letters were written in Chinese. An interpreter was called in and the letters were found to be in order.



PERMANENT HOME—At long last Canada's Prime Minister is to have a permanent home. Shown above is the great old three-story Edwards home which the government plans to convert into an official home for Canada's successive cabinet heads. It was built in Ottawa more than 60 years ago by the late Senator W. C. Edwards. It now is serving as the Australian Legation. The Australian lease will expire Nov. 1.—(CP Photo)

Seeks Solid Labor Front To Win Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Act

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Labor Secretary Maurice J. Tobin today called on organized labor in the U.S. to replace discord and cross-purposes with "the solidarity of co-operation" to secure such objectives as repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

"It has already been proved that when an international crisis is being faced, or when the labor movement is being threatened within a state or in Washington, the A.F.L. and C.I.O. can work together effectively and harmoniously," Tobin said in a speech at the national A.F.L. convention.

He urged co-operation on the political level "if we are to get rid of Taft-Hartley" and realize other parts of President Truman's "Fair Deal" program.

Cool In North Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Cooler air was moving rapidly eastward across northern Ontario today and prospects are for a frosty night. In the south, mild moist air continued to blanket the lower lakes regions and extensive drizzle and some fog were reported today. The cool air from the north is expected in the south by nightfall, but clearing conditions are not anticipated.

Stan Clarke Heads Lake Badminton Club

LAKE COWICHAN — Stan Clarke, who last year held the post of secretary-treasurer, was elected president of the Lake Cowichan Badminton Club at its first meeting of the season.

Lorraine Eklund was elected secretary-treasurer. Past president is Fred Ozero.

A drive for members is under way by the club, which holds practices and games in the High School gymnasium.

Care For Orphans

LONDON (Reuter) — Twelve Greek orphan children, all from Greek villages devastated by the civil war, arrived in London Monday night. The four girls and eight boys were brought to Britain by Lady Norton, wife of Sir Clifford Norton, British Ambassador in Athens. They will be looked after by the Society for International Help for Children.

Seek Tax Exemption For B.C. Electric To Reduce Fares

VANCOUVER (CP)—Elimination of federal income taxes on the B.C. Electric Co. as one step toward reducing transit fares here will be sought by City of Vancouver.

Mayor Charles Thompson said Monday the tax is "discriminatory" in that privately-owned utilities pay it, while publicly-owned firms do not pay.

A recommendation that Ottawa eliminate such taxes on privately-owned utilities was made by a civic utilities committee and is expected to be forwarded to Ottawa by the city council.

Transit fares here recently were increased from three for 25 cents to a straight 10 cents.

'Copter Blades Kill Parachuting Pilot

MOORESTOWN, N.J. (UP)—Veteran test pilot J. David Driskill, Manteo, N.C., attempted to escape from a disabled helicopter, but the shrouds of his parachute caught in the rotor blades and he was killed in the crash, officials reported today.

Co-pilot-mechanic Charles Dougherty, 30, Collingdale, Pa., parachuted free of the plane here Monday and escaped with slight injuries. Driskill, who held the first CAA civilian helicopter license, was testing a new type plane, known as the XH-10, for the Kellett Aircraft Corporation.

Canadian Press Shifts Bureau Heads

HALIFAX (CP)—A three-way shift of Canadian Press bureau chiefs was announced at Monday's board meeting of the national newsgathering co-operative by General Manager Gillis Purcell.

John Dauphinee, present head of the C.P.'s New York bureau, moves to Winnipeg as bureau chief with supervisory duties for western Canada. Dauphinee, 36, a native of Vancouver, has been with the C.P. since 1936. He was London chief 1945-48.

E. S. Johnson, chief of bureau at Winnipeg, goes to London, where he served previously from 1937 to 1940. Johnson, 52, is a veteran in the service, having joined the C.P. in 1924 and served at Winnipeg, Ottawa, Toronto, New York and London.

Stuart Underhill, London chief, replaces Dauphinee in New York. Underhill, a 38-year-old Scot, joined the C.P. in Vancouver in 1937.

The following transfers of membership were reported by Victor Sifton, president: Sherbrooke Record from John Bassett Jr. to D. G. Amaron; Brockville Recorder from the late H. R. Morgan to F. B. Maclean; Toronto Telegram from A. J. Buckland to John Bassett Jr.

To Bring Cargo

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuter)—The 7,000-ton Canadian freighter Tridale, tied up in Wellington since last April because of the Canadian seamen's dispute, will sail Friday for North Queensland to load sugar and general cargo for North America, it was learned today.

Generator Unveiled

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vital link in Canada's atomic research program, the $70,000 Van de Graaf generator, has been unveiled by the University of British Columbia. Purpose of the generator, explained Dr. G. M. Shrum, head of the university's physics department, is to study the reaction of the nucleus of the atom to bombardment.

Fought For King, Wonders Why Citizenship Withheld

Linn A. Gale, the man who efused in County Court Monday o swear on the Bible the oath f allegiance to the King for his anadian citizenship papers, disloged today it is the second time e has been thwarted in his efforts to become a Canadian.

Mr. Gale, an American-born ost accountant for the Parfitt onstruction Co. Ltd., here, said e applied for citizenship papers n Victoria in 1919 following serve with the Canadian army overeas.

He said he came to Canada rom Woodsville, New Hampshire, during the First World War and joined the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles in Montreal. Following his return from overseas, Mr. Gale said, he applied o become a Canadian citizen.

"I appeared in uniform in Victoria County Court," he said. I applied for citizenship but the udge told me I would have to ay $5 for them.

Mr. Gale said he refused to ay the sum on principle. "I elieve this $5 fee was a bit of racket," he said. "I think something was published on the subect about three years ago."

The former New Englander id he had objected Monday o taking an oath on the Bible ntirely because he was an atheist and not because he did not want to declare his allegiance to King and country.

"If the situation was reversed and I was applying for citizenship papers in the U.S.," he said, "I would refuse to take the oath on the Bible to the President of the United States."

Mr. Gale said he did not know why Judge H. H. Shandley had withheld his application. "I made a declaration of allegiance instead," he said, "which is provided for in the Canadian Evidence Act.

"I stand on my rights," he said. "I am entitled to freedom of thought."

Soviet Idea West's Economic Collapse May Be Own Undoing

OTTAWA (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today Russia's assumption that the west's economy must inevitably collapse will eventually "be her own undoing."

"This assumption," the Briton told a press conference, "argues that the west never learns anything . . . I don't think we're going to have slumps inevitably arising."

The western powers were determined that they would not be ruined by economic collapse. There had been "a little currency disturbance recently" but it might have been avoided "if we'd realized earlier what it was."

Sees Plenty Of Evidence Of Large Coal Deposits In Peace River Valley

Only a blind man would miss seeing evidence of large coal deposits in certain areas of the B.C. portion of the Peace River Valley, according to Clarence R. D. Ferris, provincial government photographer, who recently returned from a 6,000-mile photographic trip to Northern B.C.

Mr. Ferris said that he was informed by residents in the area that a visiting American geologist had estimated there was enough coal in the Peace River block to supply the whole of the North American Continent.

Mr. Ferris said he saw evidence of this when he visited the Peace River Canyon coal mines, about 175 miles from Dawson Creek. Along the banks of the canyon were coal seams 16-foot thick.

While visiting the Canyon, Mr. Ferris met Neil Gething, a Peace River pioneer, who discovered the coal deposits in the area in 1904.

Mr. Gething, now in his eighties, was one of the first men to realize the rich mineral potentialities of the Peace River block. The mines he discovered at the Peace River Canyon are now operated by his sons.

A professional geogolist, Mr. Gething went to the Peace River Valley when there were few white men in the district. The tremendous amount of sandstone in the creeks convinced him that there were rich ores and coal at the Canyon.

Mr. Ferris said he visited one of the mines of the Peace River Co. Mines Ltd.

"You don't have to go down a shaft," he said. "You just walk into the mine at ground level. I walked for over an hour in one mine and only had to bend my head on a few occasions. The shafts are about 8 feet high."

He said there was little evidence of gas in the mines. This enabled him to take pictures of miners at work with photographic flash bulbs.

"I was told the coal was very good," he said. "It has very low ash content and high heating quality. The coal is taken to Dawson Creek where it is loaded on railway cars and transported eastward.

With regard to the Peace River Canyon, Mr. Ferris said it was 22 miles long and not navigable.

"No man has shot the canyon," said Mr. Ferris, 'and lived to tell the tale."

Turbulent and treacherous waters of the Peace River Canyon. The picture was taken by Clarence Ferris, provincial government photographer, who visited the canyon this summer. The banks of the canyon are lined with coal seams 16 feet thick.

U.S. Soon May Double Its Output Of A-Bombs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — President Truman will ask Congress to double the United States atom bomb production program as an answer to Russia's possession of that weapon, the Nashville Tennessean reported today.

At the request of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, the President will ask for emergency funds before Congress adjourns, the paper said in a copyrighted Washington dispatch.

The A.E.C., the article said, wants the President to ask Congress to double its 1950 appropriation of $378,000,000 and to approve $30,000,000 to $60,000,000 for construction during the present fiscal year.

(Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep.-Iowa), said last week in Washington that appropriations for the U.S. atomic weapon program allowed in advance for Russian developments.

(The program from the start, he added, had been based on the assumption that Russia sooner or later would produce atomic bombs.

(Congress already has voted about $5,000,000,000.)

The A.E.C. has been working on plans for a tremendous expansion in bomb production for the last six months, according to the article in the Tennessean, and now feels that the urgency of the armament race with Russia demands immediate action because of Russia's claim she has the bomb.

Evidence Given Guay Bought $10,000 Insurance

QUEBEC (CP)—A pretty airline office attendant testified today that J. Albert Guay bought a $10,000 insurance policy on the life of his wife three days before she was killed with 22 others in a plane crash Sept. 9.

The witness was Lucille Levesque, employee of Canadian Pacific Airlines, who appeared as a witness at Guay's preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering his wife.

Guay is alleged to have arranged for a time-bomb to be planted aboard the plane. The Crown maintains the explosion occurred about 40 miles east of Quebec, sending the plane crashing into rugged, wooded country.

Miss Levesque said she sold Guay a ticket for his wife's passage from Quebec to Baie Comeau, Que., Sept. 6, three days before the flight that ended in disaster.

She declared that at the same time Guay inquired about passenger-insurance rates and was informed they were 25 cents for $5,000 insurance; 50 cents for $10,000 and $1.25 for $25,000.

Guay thought $10,000 was "sufficient' and bought a policy when he paid $40.40 for his wife's fare.

The hearing which opened before a court room packed a half-hour before the start with a chattering crowd.

Noronic Passenger Saw Officer Help Persons Escape

TORONTO (BUP) — Noronic passengers were dancing in the passageways with lighted cigarettes on the morning the ship burned at its Toronto pier, killing at least 139 persons, the federal inquiry into the disaster was told today.

John Orth of Detroit, a survivor of the holocaust which enveloped the cruise liner in a matter of minutes Sept. 27, said a "typical excursion crowd" was aboard the ship. "There was great hilarity, with dancing continuing in the corridors until the early hours of the morning the fire broke out," he said.

Orth told the commissioner he had asked a ship's officer on the first night out from Detroit whether a cabin watch was maintained for the comfort of passengers. The officer told him the passengers could be warned but not stopped, Orth said.

The night of the fire, the witness and his wife retired to their C deck cabin about 11 p.m. "I woke about an hour later when my wife said there were loud noises on deck," Orth said.

"I jumped out of bed, opened the door and then closed it fast. I had inhaled a lot of smoke," he added. Orth testified he and his wife escaped from the ship by climbing from the window of their stateroom, and then running the length of the ship to the stern.

He looked back from the stern, where an officer was lowering passengers over the side, and saw practically all the staterooms ablaze.

Assistant commission counsel John Godfrey asked whether he had seen Capt. William Taylor, master of the Noronic, at any time during the fire. Orth replied that he had seen no ship's officer, except the one at the stern, "who was doing a magnificent job."

OPENINGS FOR ESCAPE

Capt. William Taylor, master of the vessel, told the commission three doors, besides the gangway, were open on the dock side of the ship the night of the fire.

During previous evidence, the court had heard the gangway was the only port open facing the pier when flames swept the vessel. But Capt Taylor explained there were none on D deck where the fire was believed to have broken out.

The master said the ship carried 16 Jacob's ladders, eight on each side of the vessel, which were provided to help passengers clamber into lifeboats.

Capt. Taylor said he didn't think passengers would have trouble letting he ladders down, but testified they had last ben lowered Sept. 1 during a boat drill.

Capt. Taylor agreed with previous evidence about the fire-fighting equipment aboard the ship. Other witnesses had told the court the Noronic carried more than required.

Czechs Scrap Friendship Pact With Yugoslavia

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist government scrapped its friendship pact with Yugoslavia today and demanded the Yugoslav ambassador to Prague be recalled immediately.

There was no immediate indication the demand for the recall of Yugoslav Ambassador Marijan Stilinovic meant a final break in steadily-worsening diplomatic relations between the two countries.

The announcement, read over the Prague radio, said the Czech government considered the ambassador's presence in Prague as undesirable, accusing his embassy staff of including spies linked with an unnamed western power.

Previously Russia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania had denounced their friendship and mutual aid treaties with Tito, but they had stopped short of breaking diplomatic ties.

The Czech statement announcing the move said it had been definitely established that the Yugoslav ambassador's staff in Prague had included "agents and provocateurs" sent by Yugoslavia into Czechoslovakia for espionage and to create unrest.

The Czech government today also:

1. Renounced its cultural treaty with Yugoslavia.

2. Announced recognition of the new Chinese Communist government and broke off relations with the Chinese Nationalist regime.

Albert Berger, 1596 Earlston Avenue, was fined $35 in city police court Monday after having pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving. The charge was laid following an accident at the corner of Quadra and Johnson Streets, Sept. 26.

A fine of $25 was imposed against Sidney Bloomfield, crew member of the freighter Tricape when he pleaded guilty in Esquimalt police court Monday afternoon to a charge of assaulting fellow crew member Jeane C. Dionne.

No provision exists for payment of suppplementary pensions to Imperial veterans who came to Canada after the war and receive pensions from the British government.

Prague Shootings Bring Death To 3, Injuries To Others

PRAGUE (Reuter)—Three men were killed and several others were injured in shooting incidents in this Czechslovak capital last Saturday night.

First-hand reports received today confirmed rumors circulating in Prague since Saturday.

No official statement was available.

One man, before he died of bullet wounds in the stomach, said: "Comrades, why have you done this to me?"

Eyewitnesses in one incident said tommy-gun fire came from a car carrying uniformed passengers. They sprayed into people waiting for a public transport vehicle outside Prague's big Pankbac Prison.

One man was killed there and another seriously injured.

The first incident occurrend in a dark street in the Prague district of Ziskovonce, known as "the Red suburb" from the number of Communists there.

Three unidentified men were walking along in the darkness beside the wall of a closed Jewish cemetery.

A black car came up behind them and its occupants sprayed the group with bullets. One man died on the spot. A second died soon afterwards.

Canada's Military Exercise 'Eagle' Cost $131,000

OTTAWA (BUP)—The government had let out the secret of how much one of Canada's military exercises cost the taxpayers, but Defence Minister Brooke Claxton said he hoped it wouldn't create a precedent.

Claxton told the Commons Monday in reply to a question from opposition defence critic, Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, that the much-publicized exercise Eagle staged in the Northwest last August cost $131,000 besides the 1,624 participants' normal pay and allowances.

The exercise was criticized in newspaper editorials and in Parliament as an indication that the air force had insufficient aircraft to repel an enemy attack. Claxton since denied this. He said the relatively few planes involved did not represent the nation's war potential.

U.S. Senators Investigate Britain Buying Canadian Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Agricultural Committee ordered an investigation today of the recent agreement allowing Great Britain to use $175,000,000 in Marshall Plan funds to buy Canadian wheat. The resolution directs a full investigation into the effect of the agreement on American wheat farmers, the price of wheat in the United States, the government's farm price support program and "American agriculture generally."

The agreement was the outgrowth of recent British, U.S. and Canadian talks here on ways to ease Britain's shortage of dollars.

Senator James Kem (Rep.-Mo.) previously had attacked the arrangement on the Senate floor, contending it sticks a pitchfork into U.S. wheat growers.

The investigation is to be made by a sub-committee of the agriculture committee.

The first allocation of Marshall-Plan dollars, permitting the U.K. to buy Canadian wheat, already has been made.

Supplement Pensions Of Canadians With Imperial Forces

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians who served in the Imperial forces and who are receiving pensions from the British government will not lose any money by devaluation of the pound, Veterans' Minister Gregg said in a Commons return tabled in reply to a question from T. L. Church (P.C.-Toronto-Broadview).

Mr. Gregg said the Canadian government will supplement these pensions to bring them up to an amount equal to that received by Canadian pensioners in similar circumstances.

Supplementary pensions are paid only to Canadians who lived in Canada before joining the Imperial forces in either the First or Second World War and who returned to Canada after the war, drawing pensions from the British government.

TITANIC CLASH

DESPITE A 45-DAY SUPPLY OF bituminous coal and a steel stockpile estimated to last four to six weeks, the strike of 1,000,000 workers in those two industries will quickly be felt throughout the economy of the United States. The diminished income of the strikers themselves will immediately affect the providers of goods and services in their communities. And long before reserves are used up, subsidiary industries will have to be curtailed in conformity with the decline of the two major business giants. Thus unemployment will spread and the country will be faced with the spectacle of a "depression" in the midst of plenty. Such will be the inevitable outcome unless the labor-management dispute is settled at an early date, or, failing that, the government steps in—as it has on previous occasions—and orders a resumption of production under federal sponsorship.

In both the coal and the steel disputes the main point at issue is not that of a direct increase in wages or a decrease in hours. The negotiations centre around the provision of pensions and welfare funds by management. Such concessions, where agreed to by industry, represent a raise in income for employees. But by reason of their deferred nature they are less likely to be a factor in contributing to inflation. It must be remembered, however, that their effect on the income of industry is not deferred but immediate; payments must be made into the various funds on a week-by-week basis and are therefore visible at once in so far as they influence profits and prices.

Mr. Lewis and Mr. Murray, leaders, respectively, of the coal and steel workers organizations, are committed to a policy of standing fast until their causes are won. Management, on the other hand, seems equally determined to insist on its stand. It is a struggle of titans, in which the individual worker has a very small voice once the die is cast. By forcing government to assume control—even though only temporarily—of the means of production, neither management nor labor will have promoted the best interests of the system of free enterprise that has created the highest standard of living in the world. A solution must, and will, eventually be found. It would be better to find it before state control has to be invoked.

AN IMPORTANT TASK

THE HUNDREDS WHO PACKED CHRIST Church Cathedral on Sunday and the thousands who listened by radio provided a measure of the welcome Victorians in general extended to the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Dr. Cyril Foster Garbett, Lord Archbishop of York and Primate of England. It is not often that the city has the opportunity to play host to a visitor of the ecclesiastical stature of the Primate, and it was with particular pleasure, in these troubled times, that his message was heard.

"Our age does indeed need good news," he said. "We live in an age of crisis; millions of people are sorrowful, anxious and worried." The provision of that "good news" he saw as the task of the Christian faith—a challenge to Christianity perhaps unparalleled since the days of its establishment on earth.

Dr. Garbett likewise put his finger on the crux of the world problem when he drew attention to one of the outstanding questions of our era: the disagreement as to the "value of man" and whether he is "only an instrument of the state or of a great industrial system" or a free, intelligent entity in his own right. That is the fundamental cleavage which divides Christianity and the Communist concept; it is the principle upon which the final battle must inevitably be fought. In promulgating the "good news" on that point, Christianity will have manifested high service to mankind.

FIT AND PROPER

THE WHITE HOUSE IN WASHINGTON, which has progressed from being merely a Presidential residence to attain the eminence of a national shrine, has no counterpart in Canada. Canadian Prime Ministers have provided their own homes, and although the famous Laurier House became nationally known, it passed into the possession of Sir Wilfrid's great Liberal successor, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, as a personal gift rather than as a historic structure belonging to the nation.

The present move to provide the Prime Minister of Canada with an official residence is therefore timely and sure to merit the support of the people in general. It is not in keeping with the stature of this senior overseas Dominion that the head of its government should have no more spacious accommodation than a five-room apartment. The demands of etiquette and formal courtesy to official visitors make necessary a more imposing residence for the representative of a nation of more than 13,000,000 people, and the Ottawa house proposed by Cabinet spokesmen, which stands in the neighborhood of the Governor-General's residence and is already owned by the Dominion, would seem to be a suitable choice. The approval of the Commons in respect to providing money for renovation and repairs should be forthcoming without objection from any quarter.

PROTECTING THE SEED CORN

ONE OF THE MORE THOUGHTFUL criticisms of modern trends in education is that public schools have been forced to concentrate on the mediocre student, leaving the more brilliant one to his own resources. The point has been made that as more and more children pass through elementary grades on up into high school and beyond, the classrooms in the upper levels have ceased to represent the intellectually superior pupil and have become the home of all types, with those of lesser academic abilities in the majority. In consequence, the argument runs, the standard of courses has been, of necessity, graded down to the lower average. The brighter pupils, those who once held numerical superiority in the upper grades, are faced with curricula which do not call forth their best efforts. They can float through their courses with ease and, in consequence, develop habits of mental laziness which are frequently hard to correct.

Such has been the pessimistic belief of many who have studied the school system. And the fact must be recognized that mass secondary education is sending students through high school and into college who, in an earlier age, would have dropped out long before they reached junior matriculation classes. Sound arguments may be presented in favor of the present trend. The students of no great aptitude should benefit to some extent at least from exposure to the extended instruction given to them, and the general educational level is raised.

What then of the bright ones? It would appear from an article appearing in this newspaper last Saturday, that very definite steps are being taken in British Columbia high schools to encourage them to use to the full their particular abilities, and that the success of the system introduced during the last four or five years for that purpose is becoming manifest. This, we suggest, is encouraging news for everyone. Few there are who will discount the advantages of education for all the children. And if the present course of studies also provides an adequate challenge to the development of higher scholarship among those well above the average in mental capacities, the arrangement leaves little to be desired.

In effect, the plan now in operation appears to have overcome the difficulties of the harassed teacher, engaged principally in trying to meet the needs of the majority, and unable in the limited time available to him or her, to care for the scholars. Recognition of academic ability and scholarship potential has done much to avoid discouragement for the brighter students. By means of special assignments and inspiration from their teachers they can expand to the limit of their capacities. In the light of their potential leadership in later life, the system appears to have taken adequate steps to protect the seed corn.

FIRE-CRACKER DANGERS

THE ACCIDENT WHICH SENT A VICtoria youth to hospital from a premature explosion of chemicals he and his brother were concocting in their basement furnishes its own warning to youngsters of this community who are now making their Hallowe'en preparations. The unfortunate mishap which injured the amateur chemist might have happened at any time, of course. But since it occurred when some of the more exuberant of our juvenile citizens are testing out their fireworks, it might be advisable for parents to issue customary reminders of the dangers they pose.

We have in mind particularly the hazardous practice followed by some boys who throw their lighted crackers into passing automobiles. Few who test their marksmanship on the opened window of a car give any thought to the consequences which might ensue. Apart from the possibility of causing direct physical injury to the driver, the explosion of a fire cracker can temporarily blind the person at the wheel or make him or her lose control of the vehicle while it is in motion. The result can be the direct cause of a serious crash. A word of caution now could be the means of avoiding such thoughtlessness and the damage it creates.

BEFORE THE CRISIS

THE COMMON SENSE IN LABOR MINister John Cates' suggestion to the International Woodworkers of America annual convention in Vancouver last week, that closer contact can be established between management and labor, should be generally recognized. Mr. Cates voiced appreciation of the fact that machinery exists by which the two human factors in production can be brought together to consider differences, but he went a step further when he advocated meetings between the two when problems become apparent and before they mature to the point of crisis.

Medical practice takes into due consideration the advantages of catching many ailments in their initial stages. Possibilities of cure are infinitely enhanced if an adverse condition can be attacked in its early phase. Similarly, it seems reasonable to assume that labor health would be promoted or maintained more easily if differences could be discussed with a view to solution before they attain an importance which sets the two factions, labor and management, apart in hostile camps.

It was different in grandpa's day. The women of the house may have worn the trousers but never on the streets.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
From Washington

DIRTY WORDS

WITH rather desperate haste, the chief American political and strategic policy-makers are now working on plans to deal with the new situation created by "the atomic explosion somewhere in Russia." Their directive from President Truman has been to evolve a program which will provide genuine security for their country, regardless of other considerations.

According to those who should know, the President has responded to the challenge of the Beria bomb with the courage that marked his sponsorship of the draft bill two years ago. If Truman does not weaken, and his advisers do their jobs honestly and well, there can be only one result. The country will shortly be presented with a program entirely overshadowing all previous great measures to solve the problem of Soviet imperialism.

NO HINT of this fact has yet been given for two reasons. First, the program is not ready. Second, the President has calculated his timing very carefully. In order to avoid accusations of scare-mongering, he purposely delayed announcement of the Beria bomb, until the Senate had safely passed the Military Aid Program for Europe. In the same manner, in order to avoid accusations of war-mongering, he is waiting now until the Soviets have proved once again that they will not accept true international control of nuclear energy.

When this proof has been given, as it should shortly be, the time will come for President Truman to issue the rallying call for a great national effort. The reasons why this effort must be so great are plainly inherent in the basic security situation.

AS WAS first disclosed in this space, all defence planning of the Joint Chief of Staff has long been founded on the expectation that the Beria bomb would be produced in 1952. But the first Beria bomb has now been tested in 1949 (and is considered by American scientists to have proved as powerful as the American Nagasaki bomb, and therefore better than the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima). This in turn both violently contracts, and gives dire urgency to, the whole defence time-table.

On the basis of the 1952 date, the Joint Chiefs of Staff allowed five years for defence build-up, counting three years until the Soviets produced a bomb and two more for them to accumulate a decisive stockpile of their new weapon. The job for which five years was formerly allowed must now be done in two years at the outside. To take one specific example, the Joint Chiefs had projected expenditures of $1,800,000,000 to $2,000,000,0000 annually for European rearmament, intending to complete this vital program at a total cost of $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 at the end of the five-year period. The contraction of the time schedule will, if anything, increase the total cost. And thus western European rearmament, if seriously carried forward, must become a $5,000,000,000 item in the 1950 and 1951 budgets.

THIS rule will hold for almost all defence spending. Moreover, mere physical defence is by no means the only problem. While the United States is presently beyond range of mass attack from Soviet bases, Europe is within easy range. A decisive stockpile of Beria bombs is defined as enough of these weapons to break all European resistance. And these grim facts are already having sharp political effects upon American allies.

Unless the United States chooses to confront an expanding Soviet empire in naked isolation, she must therefore move forward on the political and economic fronts as well as on the defence front. Hard solutions must be found for all the Atlantic community's pressing problems, such as those revealed by the British economic crisis. Even with this kind of strong American support, the United States' allies will need great courage not to desert the united front against Soviet imperialism. And if the U.S. fails her allies in any respect whatever, she must expect those allies to fail her.

ADD to the list of things to be done the task of safeguarding the free world's weak Far Eastern flank. Remember also that there can never be true peace without a fundamental change in the world power balance, and that the best hope of this change lies in energetic steps to promote Titoism among Russia's unhappy satellites. The sum of the essential program is seen to demand something very like American peacetime mobilization for the cold war.

Precisely because the effort demanded is so great, the implications of the Beria bomb are already becoming dirty words, unmentionable in polite society. Perhaps the President will after all avoid any crude public statement of the new facts of life in the world, or any troublesome attempt to deal with those facts. But one must hope that he will live up to the expectations of some of the best men around him; for the facts are facts nonetheless, and will exact their penalty if ignored.

TRANSIT MONOPOLY

Having allowed free competition in public transportation to be abolished, the people now suffer the result.

No doubt those who, after a hard day's work, have daily to suffer the indignity and discomfort of being jammed and crushed in buses, would be delighted if jitneys were again allowed to run.

These daily sufferers should start a public fund to pay for legal action to get this transportation monopoly abolished.

If the B.C.E.R., as they assert, can't make their monopoly pay, why should they object to throwing up the sponge?

ILDATHACH.

UNDERTIME VS. OVERTIME

If it be conceded overtime is detrimental to health, cannot undertime be placed in the same category. Why condemnation for the one and pardon for the other?

Today the danger of undertime is becoming increasingly apparent! We have the slack-ropes. The parties who dare not tighten up for fear of too much work, when too little work is their real complaint. Undertime can be a sin, too. Lest we forget that time itself knows no holiday.

Work is the breath of life to man, but hours have become walls, rigid and fixed, beyond which it is folly to proceed.

Sooner or later a balance will have to be struck between overtime and undertime. The expansion and contraction of work hours will have to be accounted for.

Man should take heed lest in his zeal for less work and higher wages he oversteps the mark. Snowballs increase in size as they roll down hill.

Undertime could be a snowball.

POPPY FUND

Thanks to the generosity of Mr. Munday, the Poppy Fund Campaign has opened an office at 1423 Broad Street and the campaign has already got under way.

Mr. Ralph Day and Mr. Clarence L. Pullen have started taking orders. Both are veterans and old-timers at the job and it is hoped that when they call soliciting orders for wreaths from the businessmen and others they will be treated with the same generous response as in previous years.

This year the higher cost of living will bring many demands for assistance from needy ex-servicemen and women. The devaluation of the pound will also affect a lot of ex-Imperial pensioners.

All ex-service personnel can rely on the Remembrance Day Committee to assist when necessary.

The sale of poppies and wreaths in order to assist needy cases is made in memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice and the making of the emblems finds employment in the Red Cross workshop for many veterans who are unsuitable for any other work.

CIVIL RIGHTS

When John Diefenbaker and Alastair Stewart, Members of Parliament, made their pleas in the House of Commons at Ottawa in reply to the Speech from the Throne for the enactment of a national civil rights law of fundamental freedoms for all Canadians, they hit the nail on the head. Basic freedoms, rights and liberties of the Canadian people should be protected by law. On the other hand, where are the laws on our statute books that guarantee the Canadian people against sharp legislative or police practices?

To entrust basic civil liberties to the judgment of Crown employees is like driving an automobile without a brake. Crown employees get the protection and the public get the boot. How much longer will the Canadian people stand for this kind of nonsense? Why not change this one-sided law? A co-ordinated national civil rights law of fundamental freedoms for all Canadians made enforceable in the courts should be made the law of the land without further delay.

H. THORNE,
Winnipeg.

'Indeed A Contribution'

John G. McIntosh, president, the Community Chest of Greater Victoria

AT THIS TIME of the year, in about 15 cities across Canada, Community Chest campaigns are in progress.

One might very well ask: "What is the Community Chest?" The answer to that question is different in each city. Here, in Victoria, the Community Chest is a group of people incorporated under the laws of British Columbia. In Vancouver, it is likewise a separate corporate entity. No Community Chest in Canada has any legal connection with any other Community Chest. Their relationship with each other, like that of the members of the British Commonwealth of Nations, is only that they are bound together by matters of mutual interest.

In Victoria, the membership changes from year to year as our constitution provides that, in each fiscal year, members shall be comprised of all persons over 18 years of age who have contributed one dollar or more. A meeting of our members is held in the spring of each year, notice of which is published in both our local daily newspapers. At each annual meeting, a board of directors is elected and, on the shoulders of the members of this board of directors, rest the responsibilities of carrying on the routine work of the chest.

Questions recently raised in the correspondence columns are answered by the official Community Chest statement presented here.

GIVE GENEROUSLY

This year, we are most fortunate in having a board of directors comprised of 26 persons who, as leaders in their own fields of endeavor, give generously and freely of their time and specialized knowledge. Round table meetings of this board are held every month at Welfare House on Pandora Avenue, and they are open to any member of the public who may care to go and see what work is being done for the unfortunate people who are always with us.

The expenditure of every penny is carefully supervised, and every care is taken to see that full value is obtained for money spent.

Appointed by, and working under the supervision of, the board of directors, is a group known as the campaign committee. This committee is headed by three outstanding citizens who, like the board members, give their time and the benefit of their vast business experience, absolutely free of charge. Under their direction, in turn, are groups of volunteer canvassers, the total number of which runs into 600 or 700 persons.

The people of Victoria can rest assured that this volunteer organization, gathering in funds for closely regulated distribution to 21 charitable bodies, could have no better management than that with which it is endowed. The people of Victoria can be sure that a contribution to the Community Chest is indeed a contribution to the unfortunate people within our gates.

15 Cents For Tito

New York Times

The $20,000,000 loan which this country has just made to Yugoslavia, through the Export-Import Bank, represents about fifteen cents for each inhabitant of the United States. In practical terms it will enable Marshal Tito to fix up his mining machinery and other key apparatus. It will enable us to get aluminum ore, mercury, copper, lead and zinc, all of which we need for immediate use or for strategic stockpiling. Probably it will be paid back. The Bank is not supposed to make loans that won't be. Regardless of politics, this loan looks like good business, on a fairly small scale.

Scratch His Ears

Windsor Star

When the owner of a prize bull at the Canadian National Exhibition scratched its ears, the big animal meekly put its head in the man's lap. Which surprised some onlookers.

It needn't have. One of the best ways to make friends with any animal is to scratch its ears, or, more exactly, to scratch behind its ears.

Lacking a scientific explanation, we suppose it is because most animals find it difficult, or impossible, to scratch behind their own ears.

And, if you want to carry the idea further, just stop to count how many times a day you scratch behind your own ears!

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

CHINESE ability to devise problems which are difficult to solve has given rise in the western world to the term "Chinese puzzles" as descriptive of anything intricate.

That term appropriately represents the chaotic condition to which civil war has brought old China. Having within her borders more than one-fifth of the globe's population, she continues to be accorded the name of one of the big five world powers. Yet she is part Communist and part Nationalist, with two rival governments, both seeking the favors of foreign countries.

Russia was quick to recognize the new Communist regime established in Peiping, and the Chinese Reds now have invited formal recognition by the rest of the world. Meantime, the United Nations has before it a Chinese Nationalist charge that Russia is backing the Chinese Reds with military aid.

That's the Chinese puzzle which Britain, the United States and other powers have to solve. It's a tough one and filled with dangers.

Britain announces that she is ready to discuss the new Red regime with 18 other countries, comprising the north Atlantic alliance and the British Commonwealth.

DECIDE NOW

The western democracies, which have been battling Communism in the cold war, must now decide whether they want to compromise in China, the vital Asiatic theatre in this war of the ideologies.

Moscow's recognition of the Peiping government is a hard blow to the Nationalist regime in the big southern port of Canton. This comes as both sides are deploying their forces for a new phase of the great battle on which hinges possession of Canton.

As this conflict boils up the Nationalist cabinet has accepted the resignation of the government's chief-of-staff, Gen. Ku Chu-tung, who has been charged with inefficiency. Gen. Hsiao Vi-tsu, vice-minister of national defence, has been named acting chief-of-staff in this crisis.

One of the most important figures in the new Communist government is Gen. Chou En-lai, who has been made Premier and Foreign Minister under the big chief, Mao Tze-tung. The latter is chairman of the "People's Republic of China."

The general is about 50. Like Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, as a youth he was a disciple of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, father of the republic. Indeed, Chou worked with Chiang in those early days, but they broke over the question of Communism which Chou embraced.

HARNESSING SOLAR ENERGY

Edmonton Journal

The other day, the U.S. secretary of the interior, Julius A. Krug, said his department has uncovered "encouraging" prospects that science may harness the sun's energy for industry. He felt the solar energy problem might be solved by expenditure of sums like the three billions spent by the U.S. on the problem of nuclear energy.

If the move is ever made, the world will be going direct to the original fountainhead of the resources it now uses. And we won't need to worry about declining resouce — at least for some hundreds of millions of years during which, scientists predict, Old Sol will go on pouring out heat and light at much the same rate as today.

SURRENDER

Washington Post

Commenting at his press conference recently on the tenth anniversary of Hitler's invasion of Poland, President Truman expressed the hope that the cold war now in progress between Russia and the west will end in "surrender" — as the shooting war did four years ago. This is a cryptic utterance inviting very serious misunderstanding. Nations do not surrender save when, as in the case of Germany and Japan, they have suffered total defeat. No such defeat can be inflicted by diplomatic means — which are, of course, the means employed in what is called a cold war—and indeed no such defeat should be the aim of diplomacy. What the United States and the other nations of the west seek is not Soviet surrender, but a reorientation of Soviet policy which will permit peaceful adjustment of conflicting interests.

IO THEATRE

Dimitri Tiomkin resumed his acetime film career by signing write the musical score of avid O. Selznick's big Technilor production, "Duel in the un," which can be seen now at e Rio Theatre through Selznick eleasing Organization.

When Tiomkin was released from the U.S. Army Pictorial Service there was a rush of Hollywood producers to sign him up. Tiomkin's reputation springs from such musical scores as those of "The Great Waltz" and a series of Frank Capra pictures including "Lost Horizon," for which he won the Academy Award.

ROYAL THEATRE

Warner Bros. allotted the year's prize feminine role of "Dominique" in "The Fountainhead" now being shown at the Royal Theatre, to beautiful Patricia Neal. Practically every actress on the Warner roster was under consideration for this plum assignment, and even outside actresses put in bids for the part.

SLAM MADE AGAINST OPENING TWO-BID

Today's hand was sent to me by Mrs. A. Fay of Knoxville, Tenn., because she thought it was unusual. I think you will agree that making a slam against an opening two-bid is unusual.

Very soon I plan to run a series of articles on Fred L. Karpin's responses to the two-bid. Most of the good players today use ace-showing responses to two-bids, but after the first response, there is some guess from there on, which Karpin's new bid will help to eliminate.

Today's hand is an ideal one for the two-bid, because South would like to find out whether or not his partner holds the ace of hearts or ace of diamonds. West elected to bid two spades, rather than double. Now what should North do?

North: ♠ Q 9 5 ♥ 10 7 5 3 2 ♦ 6 3 2 ♣ 8 5

West: ♠ K 10 7 6 4 3 2 ♥ A 8 ♦ A Q 10 7 ♣ None

East: ♠ A J 8 ♥ None ♦ K J 8 5 4 ♣ 7 6 4 3 2

South: ♠ None ♥ K Q J 9 6 3 ♦ 9 ♣ A K Q J 10 9

Dealer South. Rubber—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
2♥	2♠	3♥	3♠
4 N.T.	5♠	Double	Pass
6♣	Pass	6♥	6♠
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass

Opening—♣ 8

If he were using ace-showing responses, North could not bid three hearts because that bid would signify that he held the heart ace. Many players would agree that North should have jumped to four hearts, but in this case he simply bid three hearts.

When East bid three spades, South used the Blackwood four no trump convention. North certainly did not have a double of five spades — undoubtedly he doubled on his partner's bidding. South made a nice takeout in bidding six clubs. East also made a very nice bid of six spades. After doubling five spades, North certainly should not have doubled six, since his opponents had bid six despite his first double.

West had no problem at all in the play of the hand. He did not even have to ruff the heart, as it could be discarded on dummy's long diamond. Thus seven-odd was made against an opponent who had opened the bidding with a genuine forcing two-bid.

ODEON THEATRE

A pacer named Dan Patch, in the early 1900s, ran himself out of competition so far that he spent the last eight years of his career running alone against the stop watch, R. Frank, Hollywood film producer has produced an exciting, romantic film based on the life of this wonder horse. It is called "The Great Dan Patch," and stars Dennis O'Keefe and Gail Russell. United Artists is releasing the film which is now at the Odeon Theatre.

ATLAS THEATRE

The unconquerable spirit of America is typified in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Pride of the Yankees," which is now on the screen of the Atlas Theatre as a story of termination and courage which carries a poor boy to fame and fortune and enables him to take a fatal malady with a smile. Based on the life of the late Lou Gehrig, beloved star of baseball, the picture brings Gary Cooper in the title role.

Rare Indian Clothes Are Rich With Gold

NEW DELHI (CP) — An exhibition of rare, priceless textiles, some of which are over 400 years old, was opened here this fall.

Most of the exhibits are of Mogul origin and include ornate gold and silver brocade coats, pyjamas, intricately patterned waistcoats, embroidered cushions, hand-painted floor cloths and carpets and Mogul flags embroidered with the lion and sun emblem.

Prominent among the exhibits are a gold embroidered piece, which was presented to one of the Mogul rulers by the Russian Czar in the 17th century, and a mandarin costume which was sent in return. The costume was acquired by an Indian after it was sold to Communists following the Russian revolution.

Victoria Beckons Families From Venezuela, California

On their first trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Ondricek, with Yvonne, right, and Jarka, marvel at this country's wealth of natural scenery.

From widely separated places, Venezuela and California, have recently come family groups to spend several months in Victoria.

In both cases, main object of the visit is to place daughters and a son in private schools here. At the same time grown-ups in the two groups are renewing old and making new friendships.

From Venezuela have come charming and friendly Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ondricek, with their shy, dark-eyed young daughters, nine-year-old Yvonne and Jarka, seven.

Mr. Ondricek, deeply tanned from 25 years in the tropics, where he is fuel superintendent for an oil company in South America, and his attractive, dark-haired wife, have made the long journey from Venezuela to enroll their young daughters at Norfolk House.

"My husband's work calls for much traveling," Mrs. Ondricek explains, "and while at times we live in larger cities, such as Caracas and Maraibo, we also travel in wild frontier country. The oil company supplies us with all conveniences, and even English school teachers, but my husband and I feel that now the girls are growing up we want them to have regular school life.

Venezuelan schools are conducted entirely in the national language, which is Spanish, and do not compare with English schools, she says.

The girls speak Spanish fluently along with English and Czechoslovakian, their parents' mother tongue.

The Ondriceks were married 10 years ago in Czechoslovakia when Mr. Ondricek was on leave there. When he returned to South America his wife accompanied him.

LIKE TROPICS

Both love their life in the tropical country, that "with the steady inflow of immigrants, has become quite cosmopolitan."

"It is very common to hear several different languages spoken in one small group of people," Mrs. Ondriceks says.

To the quiet, soft spoken women, Venezuela has become more than just a stop-gap as it is to others who are there for only two-or-three-year period.

"When you know you're going to make your home in a certain part of the world, you put down roots, absorb the feel of the country and take more interest in the people and the customs," she explains.

"In South America we live at a much slower pace. Of course we have quite a bit of social life, swimming, tennis and different clubs, but in this country, people hurry more."

"Why, even the girls have noticed it. Although they've been in school only a few weeks they've discovered there is much more studying to be done here."

"They like their Victoria school, though," adds the father, "and wouldn't go back for anything." And the girls, with shy smiles, nod in agreement.

The Ondriceks will stay in Victoria at Oak Bay Beach Hotel for three months, and then return to Venezuela.

"We came to Victoria because we'd heard from several English friends, that here was the climate most suitable for people that had lived a number of years in the tropics," they conclude.

FROM LA JOLLA

Mrs. Charles E. Burke is here from La Jolla, Calif., to spend the winter months in this city while her young children, Wendy, nearly eight, and Peter, 13, are day students at Norfolk House and Glenlyon School, respectively.

This is the first year away from their California home but Wendy and Peter, both fair of hair, and blue-eyed like their mother, are enjoying their new schools.

"We came to Victoria because we'd heard so much about the schools here from our friends," Mrs. Burke explains.

"Although I've never lived here, I've spent many holidays in this city, and my father, the late William G. Howard of Liverpool, England, formerly owned property here," she adds.

Mrs. Burke and her young family are also staying at Oak Bay Beach Hotel. Mr. Burke is representative for La Jolla Automobile Club.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Jamboree And Dolls' Bazaar

Annual jamboree and dolls' bazaar was important topic for discussion at the meeting of the junior Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hosiptal, held Monday afternoon at the Nurses' Home with Mrs. R. S. O'Meara in the chair.

The affair will be held on Nov. 1 in the Crystal Garden, afternoon and evening. Mrs. C. L. Aylard and Mrs. Harold Webster are co-conveners and attractions will include a fashion show, bathing beauty parade, games and the dolls' bazaar and a table of home cooking.

There will be fancy swimming directed by Archie McKinnon and a display by a Pro-Rec group.

During the meeting a liaison committee to act between the auxiliary and student nurses was formed and Mrs. W. C. Mearns and Mrs. W. Clark were named to this committee.

Report on refurnishing of two sitting rooms in the Nurses' Home was presented by Mrs. Mearns; Mrs. Gordon Abernethy reported for the Thrift Shop and appealed for more clothing. Those wishing to give such donations may phone Mrs. Abernethy or leave them at the Thrift Shop any morning except Monday.

Mrs. R. A. Wootton and Mrs. F. G. Aldous reported on home and hospital visiting.

Balance Changes, Britain Sees End Of Bride Surplus

LONDON (Reuters) — After 100 years of "surplus women," Britain may have to begin talking about its "surplus men."

The National Marriage Guidance Council says it is estimated that about 12 years from now, if no unexpected incident disturbs the present trend, population figures for British men and women will be about equal.

Thereafter Britain may expect to find a small preponderance of marriageable men.

"It will be interesting," a spokesman for the Council commented, "to see what effect this significant change will have upon the attitude of young people to marriage.

"The average young man of today simply takes it for granted that there is a liberal supply of potential wives awaiting his choice.

"The average young woman knows that she must secure a husband without too much delay or she will find herself on the shelf."

But the Council considers that the term "surplus women," though widely used in Britain, is "unfortunate and grossly inconsiderate" while "the publicity given the whole matter has often been widely distorted."

One writer, for instance, spoke of 2,000,000 women denied marriage and another shocked many with proposals to sanction polygamy to alleviate their plight.

Nevertheless, the Marriage Guidance Council believes that the number of marriageable girls without potential husbands has seldom been seriously high, when allowance is made for the women who lost their men in the First World War and for the fact that in advanced age groups the longevity of women gives them an overwhelming preponderance.

Emigration and war losses are considered the main causes of Britain's man shortage in the past.

Today, however, the situation is undergoing a decided change with the preponderance of women in marriageable age groups steadily dropping.

Greater susceptibility of male children in the past to accident and disease offset the normal five-per-cent excess of boy births in England. Improved modern standards of child care are believed to be overcoming this now.

In addition, the total casualties in the Second World War were not as high as in the First World War and included many women as well as men.

Marriages of British girls to foreign soldiers have also raised female emigration from Britain.

The British registrar-general's statistics confirm that more people are getting married and fewer babies are dying in Britain today than ever before. Divorces, on the other hand, have almost doubled since the war.

P.-T.A. News

Victoria West—A social evening, sponsored by Victoria West P.-T.A., was held in the school recently to welcome newcomers in the district, also parents of new pupils. H. Dawson, principal, and his staff arranged a varied program of events in the "back to school" mood. Evening's winners were G. Chapman, Y. H. Rhodes and Mrs. G. Chapman. Refreshments were served under convenership of Mrs. D. MacDonald. Mrs. F. Warren, association president, announced next meeting would be held on Oct. 17.

Craigflower — Members of Craigflower P.-T.A. held a successful welcome tea recently. Plans have been made for a card party in the school on Oct. 17 at 8 p.m. and the next regular meeting will be on Oct. 11.

Nine Students Win I.O.D.E. Bursaries

Nine students from Greater Victoria high schools were recently awarded bursaries totaling $850 by Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., in an interesting ceremony held in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company.

Scholarship winners included John Robin Sharpe, Central Junior High School; Dorothy Archer, Esquimalt High; Helen and Shirley Bennell, Oak Bay High; Marlene Vance, Central Junior High; Catherine Gibson, Esquimalt High; Ruth Foort, Victoria High; George Edward McNutt, Esquimalt High; and Alan Robertson, Belmont High.

Introduced by Mrs. W. R. Hobbs, municipal educational secretary, Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College, made the awards to winning students. He pointed out the value of scholarships, and wished the students every success.

Following the ceremony, afternoon tea was served. Mrs. W. C. Nichol and Mrs. J. L. Gates presided at the urns. Among guests were Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education, Mrs. J. L. Ford, municipal regent; H. L. Smith, principal, Victoria High School and Mrs. Smith.

Auxiliaries Plan Mammoth Klondyke Night

Ladies' auxiliaries to the Canadian Legion in the South Vancouver Island District Council have jointly planned a mammoth Klondike Night and Country Fair, in the auditorium, Britannia Branch Hall, corner of Blanshard and Cormorant Streets on Oct. 13.

Included in the entertainment will be the usual Klondike Night games, an "unusual" floor show, and a stall of miscellaneous goods for sale. Hot dogs and coffee will be served.

Proceeds will be used to provide special gifts for class five and six patients at the Veterans' Hospital. These are, in most instances, older veterans, many of whom have no family ties and few friends.

Names of auxiliaries assisting in the affair are Pro Patria and Britannia, Victoria; Langford, Sooke, Saanich, Metchosin, Malahat and Esquimalt.

Social Gathering At Normal School

Students attending Victoria Normal School gathered last week-end for the first social evening of the 1949-50 term. Dick Wayling, president of the Literary Society led a sing-song to open the program and square dances as well as ballroom dances were a feature of the evening's fun. Pop and doughnuts were served. Jeanette Boulin acted as master of ceremonies.

Jean Ruth Bowen Wears Bride's Blue For Home Wedding

A powder blue crepe afternoon frock was selected by Miss Jean Ruth Bowen for the charming home ceremony Saturday evening which united her in marriage to Clinton Ernest Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holder, 946 Cloverdale Avenue.

The newly-married couple are honeymooning at Banff, and later will return to make their home at 1036 Richardson Street.

Daughter of Mrs. O. Bowen, 3217 Alder Street, and the late Albert A. Bowen, the bride was given in marriage by E. A. Harrison, in the quiet service held at the Bowen home.

Tall baskets of gladioli and chrysanthemums in autumn tones were placed before the fireplace. Miss Carol Richards sang, "A Wedding Prayer." "O Love Divine" was the congregation hymn.

The bride's headdress was held with blossoms similar to those in her colonial bouquet of Rapture roses and violas.

She was attended by her sister Miss Lorraine Bowen, wearing a rose crepe dress, afternoon length, and carrying a colonial bouquet of pink and blue gladioli, the same flowers repeated in her headdress.

Jack Cornock was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony, and toast to the bride was given by Dr. J. B. Rowell, officiating minister. The three-tier wedding cake was placed on the bride's table, decorated with tall white candles.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Holder wore a grey gabardine topcoat over a cherry red suit, matching hat, and black accessories.

There are some vegetables which do not freeze well. In general these are ones which are ordinarily eaten raw, such as lettuce, celery, radishes, cabbage, cucumber, tomatoes and onions.

Engagements

Announcements to appear under this heading will be accepted at the Times Advertising Department. Minimum charge $1.50 for 10 lines and 15c for each additional line.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Short, 251 Quadra Street, announce the engagement of their only daughter Margaret June, to Hugh Gregor Ferguson, son of Mrs. Kennett Ferguson, Victoria, and the late Mr. Ferguson. The wedding will take place in St. John's Anglican Church on October 29, 1949.

Today's Recipe

Stuffed Potatoes

Scrub and bake large uniform size potatoes in a hot oven. Meanwhile fry ½ of a minced onion in butter until soft. Add 2 cups minced ham, 4 tbsbs. chopped relish, 1 tbsp. minced parsely and ½ cup thick white sauce. Cut slice off top of each cooked potato lenghwise, and scoop out contents, leaving a shell ¼ inch thickness of potato. Mash potato scooped out and fill shells at least half full of ham mixture. Pile mashed potato on top. Cover each with a good slice of Canadian old cheese. Place in baking pan and place under broiler until tops are brown and stuffing thoroughly heated. About 20 minutes.

Buy Gastroscope With Klondyke Night Proceeds

"Klondyke" night held recently in the auditorium, Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, was attended by hundreds of visitors and realized for the sponsors, Women's Auxiliary to Veterans' Hospital, more than $1,200.

The purpose of the affair was to raise funds for a much needed gastroscope for the surgical staff at the Veterans' Hospital.

Attracting attention of many of the visitors, who mistakenly thought it was "something new in the way of fishing gear," was the gastroscope itself on display—an implement for a different kind of fishing.

Mrs. Lennox Irving was general convener assisted by Mrs. J. S. Pells, ways and means committee.

Play commenced at 8 and continued until 11 o'clock when prizes were awarded the winners by Dr. C. A. Watson, hospital superintendent, and S. Okell, assistant district administrator. At that time, also, Mrs. W. G. Colquhoun, president of the auxiliary, presented Dr. Watson with the new gastroscope.

Matching the new bangle bracelets, bangle wedding rings are being created this year in lightweight palladium.

Tops With Needle, Man Defeats Women

WHICKHAM, Durham, Eng. (CP)—First prize for needlework at the local fair went to B. Payne. The embroidery was a floral scene with three-quarter life-size birds worked in natural colors.

It was a splendid piece of work and all the ladies wanted to meet B. Payne.

Then they got the shock of their lives. A man came up to claim the silver cup—38-year-old industrial chemist, B. Payne. But the ladies took it in good part.

"It was the first time I had entered a competition," said Payne, "but I have been doing needlework for 28 years.

"I'm a handy man about the house with a needle, but not at darning socks!"

Payne is now on his biggest job yet—two fully embroidered curtains measuring eight feet by four feet.

The highest price ever paid for goatskin was during the blockade of the Franco-Prussian War when skins sold for $5 each. This is approximately 2½ times today's price.

THE QUESTION BOX

This is the day for the question box, with a number of letters demanding only a brief answer.

Mrs. R. P.: I believe it would be far better for your daughter to sleep only one hour in the daytime than to sleep two naps and then be up until all hours at night. Continue the one nap right after the noon lunch (early if she gets too sleepy), and then put her to bed by 7 o'clock. She'll be ready to sleep.

A Grateful Reader: You revealed sensitiveness about the boy's partial deafness is penalizing the child. Do tell the teacher about this so that she will put him in a front seat and will understand the cause if he does not hear her easily.

As for your relatives, it is a shame to allow them to think the boy is stupid when an explanation that he has hearing in only one ear would encourage them to talk louder and to understand his handicap. The boy will get to dislike company if their opinion of him is poor, and he loses out on their conversation.

Mrs. R. K.: Any good food that is dehydrated goes back to being a good food again as soon as its subtracted water content is added to it. I do think you are letting prejudice against a modern method of food motivate your feelings against this. There is no harm in the use of dehydrated foods.

Mrs. F. R.: It is plain that the child has transferred her nervous tension, exhibited in her prolonged bottle-drinking and thumb-sucking, to this new habit of nail-biting. It would be well to discover why she is so nervous. Do you reprimand her over-much? Instead do you tell her that you love her and want to help her overcome these habits? If she knows that you are with her and not against her, and all you ask is her co-operation, she will be willing to give it. Tell the relatives to stop talking about her other habits, and keep her nails filed closely and covered with a colorless enamel in order to encourage her to want to keep them looking pretty.

Mrs. T. L. R.: It would seem that you have considered this subject of self-demand feedings very superficially. Their objective is to allow the baby to make its own schedule, not impose a doctor- or mother-made one on him or her. Just the same it does become a schedule, and regularity is not sacrificed. I don't believe children suffer from this, and the children you are criticizing are the ones brought up on rigid schedules. The self-demand ideas have been in vogue too short a time for there to be run-about children to criticize.

Our leaflet No. 5 on "The First Six Weeks" describes the self-demand feedings popular today. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Ten Integrated Houses Built On Shelbourne

The accompanying plan and exterior sketch shows the design which has been used in the construction of the first ten houses built under the N.H.A. integrated housing plan, financed by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, on Shelbourne Ave.

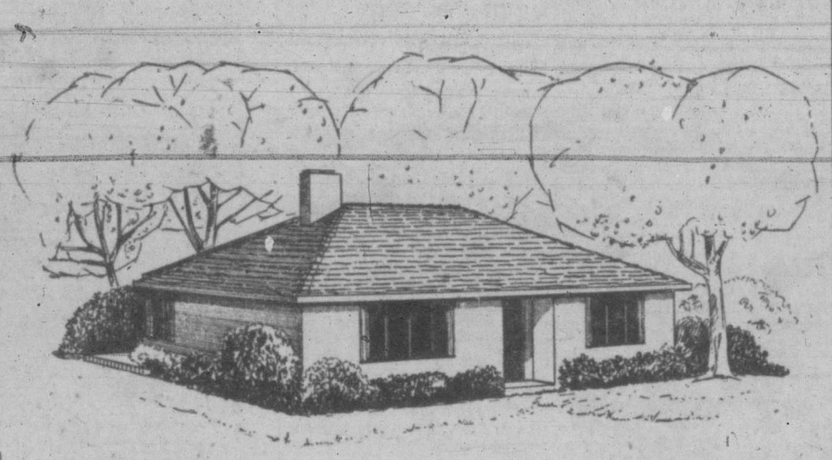
The purpose of the Integrated Housing Plan is to encourage residential construction by providing financial assistance to builders. Under the plan the builder must agree to develop a substantial area of land in accordance with a plan of subdivision and development approved by Central Mortgage. Approval and support from local municipal authorities is also necessary. Veterans have priority in buying.

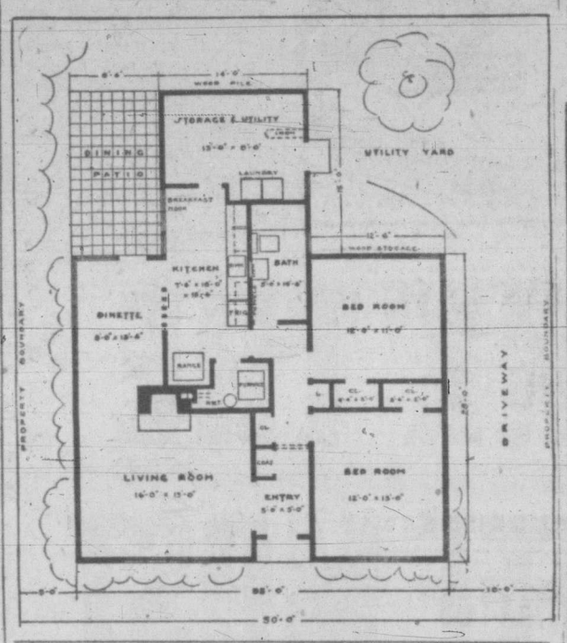
Paine and Townsend are developing a block of land on Shelbourne Ave. where fifty houses will be finished within the next few months. The first ten have been almost completed and the second ten are started. Basic designs are similar but there will be considerable variation in finish and detail to lend contrast to the houses.

First owners to move in were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Crouch who took up residence at 3409 Shelbourne Ave about ten days ago.

Note the convenience of the plan sketched. It includes a central heating room, with automatic oil heat, plenty of storage and cupboard space, and a utility room. There is a breakfast nook and a dinette, two bedrooms, a spacious living-room. All this in an area of only 1,200 square feet! Note the inviting patio too.

These houses sold for less than $8,000, with a down payment under $1,700 and a monthly payment of about $35.





Good Design Important In Building Or Buying

(This is the ninth in a series of articles written in the interest of readers who are contemplating building or buying a house.)

Whether you are building or buying a house you should know something of good design. A house may be soundly constructed and have a pleasant appearance, but unless it meets the requirements of those who will make it their home, it cannot be considered to be well designed. While structural soundness and pleasant appearance are important, it should be remembered that the prime function of a house is to meet the needs of its inhabitants.

Good design is concerned with the planning of the house and good planning ensures the utmost convenience for living, sleeping, eating, recreation and other family activities. In a well-designed house these functions are integrated with sound structure to produce a pleasant and attractive house. Because a well-designed house will be suitable to the greatest number of people, it will have a good resale value. In mortgage financing a good, practical and economical plan is as important in the appraisal of the value of a house and land for lending purposes as a structurally sound dwelling.

The principles of planning which affect livability and privacy, exterior and interior appearance, and construction cost, will be carefully considered in a house which is well-balanced and well-designed. Compromises will generally be necessary but even the small house can be planned to provide ample living comfort and convenience by compact arrangement of space and reflect simplicity, harmony and refinement in exterior design.

Balance is one of the most important points in exterior design. Balance means that the proportions between the width, length and height of the house are in harmony and that window and door openings are well-proportioned in relation to the wall spaces. Eye appeal is also obtained by setting the house as low to the ground as possible and relating it attractively to the topography of the lot. It should be noted that unsatisfactory treatment of the front entrance can ruin a design which is excellent in all other respects.

A few well-chosen materials which harmonize in color and texture, and unbroken roof and eaves lines, will lead to simplicity which, in a small house, gives the appearance of maximum size. A well-designed house is also characterized by good taste which is gained by eliminating features which are over-elaborate or non-essential, such as unnecessary gables and dormers. Finally, the house should not offend the residential character of the neighborhood.

In planning the house the object is to obtain the maximum amount of livability, privacy and convenience within the floor area the budget will alow. Livability is dependent upon the adequacy of room areas, the relationship of rooms to afford privacy between living and sleeping areas, the circulation within and between rooms, and the equipment providing for the convenience and comfort of the family, as well as adequate light and air.

Where two functions are combined in any room a compromise is made in the interest of space economy. Economy in planning requires the elimination of waste space, especially unnecessary hall areas. It also demands rooms whose shape and wall space permit the use and arrangement of essential movable furniture in a minimum floor area. Economy in planning is related to the structural elements of the house and the installation of the mechanical equipment, particularly that of heating and plumbing.

In an economical plan, hall space affords privacy and communication between various rooms, especially between living-room, bedrooms and bathroom. Otherwise it is not usable space and should not be larger than necessary. In aiming at minimum hall space, care must be taken to prevent the living-room or dining-room from becoming a traffic lane.

A good functional plan separates the two main uses of a house, living and sleeping. The living uses include cooking, dining and the various family activities associated with the living-room. Rooms in this area may be separate or serve combination uses but the floor areas should be in relation to the functions to ensure livability. Rooms used for sleeping should generally be located in corners to provide cross-ventilation and the bathroom should be easily accessible to all rooms and be located for a maximum of privacy.

If professional services are engaged to design your house, these problems become the responsibility of your architect, who is specially trained to study such problems. However, if the purchase of stock plans or a completed house is considered, an effort should be made to visualize your existing and contemplated furniture and equipment in the house and whether or not it will conveniently meet the living needs of your family.

A good method of checking is to draw the floor plans to a scale of ¼ in. equals 1 ft. and then sketch in your furniture to the same scale. This will enable you to check the circulation, door and window locations, adequacy of room sizes and shapes and many other details as you picture the requirements of your living and housekeeping habits in your house furnished on paper.

Sixth Candidate Named In Royal City

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—The Progressive Conservative Party Monday night selected its candidate, bringing to six the number who will contest the New Westminster federal by-election Oct. 24.

At the nominating convention they chose Jimmy Christmas over Dorothy Taylor, publisher of the New Westminster British Columbian, and Victor Nesbitt. Christmas was an unsuccessful candidate in the general election last June.

The other five candidates entered in the by-election fight to fill the vacancy created by Tom Reid's elevation to the Senate, are : Former Mayor William Mott, Liberal; Ron Irving, C.C.F.; Maurice Rush, L.P.P.; Vancouver Sun columnist Elmore Philpott, Independent, and Mrs. Marian Macdonald, Independent.

QUEBEC CANDIDATE

ST. PASCAL, Que. (CP)—Gerard Levesque, Quebec City lawyer, was chosen Monday by a narrow six-vote margin Liberal candidate for the Oct. 24 federal by-election in Kamouraska.

U.B.C. Alumni Group Here Plans Dance

With the relatively large numbers of students graduating from the University of British Columbia in the past few years swelling its ranks, the Victoria branch of the U.B.C. Alumni Association will climax its recent increased activity with a "Varsity Trek" toward the end of this month.

The "trek" actually will be a dance at Club Sirocco, Oct. 28, but it has been named to commemorate the moving of the university in the '20's from the old Fairview shacks to its present site at Point Grey.

It is planned to make the event an annual one.

"There are more than 500 U.B.C. graduates in Victoria at the present time and, since we cannot be included in most functions at the university itself, we intend to stir up interest in the organization here," said Dr. Dave Turner, president.

Working with Dr. Turner on arrangements for the get-together are Gloria Kendall, Jack Parnell, Tom Mayne, Harold McWilliams, Bill McCarter, Olive Heritage and others.

Dr. Turner stressed that the dance will be open to graduates of any university — not just U.B.C.—in order to promote goodwill between various schools.

Britain To Announce Another Big Drop In Gold, Dollar Reserve

LONDON (UP)—The government will announce this week another big drop in gold and dollar reserves which may bring the total on hand below £300,000,000 ($840,000,000), it was learned today.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will announce the status of reserves as of the end of the quarter ending last Friday. He will speak at the Lord Mayor's annual dinner for London bankers tomorrow night, and may then tell them the bad news.

In any case he was scheduled to give the bankers a complete review of the financial and economic situation as a result of devaluation.

The gold and dollar reserve figures will be made public while the cabinet prepares to decide this week on how to cope with the Argentine devaluation of the peso, and the consequent threat of an increase in prices of Argentine meat.

The reserves have been Britain's chief worry for months. Their depletion was a big factor in the decision to devalue the pound.

Court Of Revision Allows Reductions In Five Assessments

The city court of revision on Monday ruled against 15 appeals of property owners against their 1949 assessments and made minor adjustments in five other appeals.

Hearings are continuing today on nine more cases.

Twenty-five property owners are contesting the assessments on 29 parcels of land.

Total assessment being contested is $260,610, on land $81,470 and on improvements $179,140.

Court members are Ald. Ed. Williams, Ald. Harold M. Diggon, Ald. Duncan McTavish, Ald. Frank Mulliner and Ald. Margaret Christie. Ald. McTavish is chairman.

Reductions allowed on the five appeals Monday amounted to $440.

Dominion, Provinces To Discuss Contributory Old Age Pensions

OTTAWA (CP)—A Dominion-wide contributory old age pension scheme will be among matters discussed at the forthcoming Dominion-provincial conference on the constitution.

Health Minister Martin told the Commons Monday night that discussion will inevitably arise at the conference on the attitude of the provinces toward the idea of giving the federal government power to introduce such a scheme.

At present, the federal government does not have the constitutional power to bring in the plan.

MACINNIS RESOLUTION

Mr. Martin made the statements during debate on a resolution, sponsored by Angus MacInnis (C.C.F.-Vancouver East), which called on the federal government to co-operate with the provinces in formulating a national social security scheme.

The resolution was still being debated at adjournment and thus moves to the bottom of the list of private members' resolutions. It probably will not come up again at this session.

So far, Mr. MacInnis said, many of the social security measures had been introduced in piecemeal fashion. These had been introduced not so much because of government belief in them but because it was felt "politically expedient" to bring them in.

There were tremendous gaps in the country's social security legislation. There were no sickness benefits, for instance. Mr. MacInnis said that when a man is sick and unemployed he is more in need of assistance than a man who is unemployed but well.

Mr. Martin said the government had been co-operating all along with the provinces and that the general program in operation was a good one.

That co-operation would be continued and he hoped that before too many months there would be "good results."

OLD QUESTION

A 30-year-old labor dispute occupied the Commons during most of the three-hour afternoon sitting.

It concluded with a formal division in which the Commons voted 105 to 38 against a C.C.F. resolution asking that a Royal Commission be set up to investigate the loss of pension rights by men involved in Canadian Pacific Railway strikes of 1918 and 1919.

The Progressive Conservatives, with the exception of Chester S. McClure (P.C.-Queens, P.E.I.), and Social Credit members lined up with the C.C.F. on the resolution. J. L. Gibson (Ind.-Comox-Alberni) who hits in the Liberal ranks also opposed the government.

The dispute involved some 2,000 C.P.R. employees who lost, partially or completely, their pension rights because they had taken part in the strikes. The company contended the stoppages constituted breaches of contract and that the pensions lapsed because of the break in service.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre) who sponsored the amendment, said that while the workers may not have a legal right to the pensions, they did have a moral right.

He estimated there are still 2,000 employees affected by loss of pension rights.

Night School Offers Course In Spanish

Value of having another language in addition to English is stressed by H. E. Burnett, instructor in Spanish for the Greater Victoria night school classes. The class offers a practical and simplified method of acquiring "a thorough knowledge in pronunciation, conversation, reading and writing of Spanish."

Canada is supposedly bi-lingual but the majority of people speak only one language, Mr. Burnett said.

Many taking Spanish feel there is and will be an extension of trade with South American countries and knowledge of the language will prove not only pleasant but profitable in business, Mr. Burnett said.

New Waterworks At Campbell River

CAMPBELL RIVER — In use here now is a modern $200,000 waterworks system, which serves more than 450 dwellings and stores and takes care of about 1,000 connections.

A new waterworks system was voted for by property-owners in July, 1948, and Oscar Thulin, chairman of the waterworks committee, received a valve key from Bruce Ledingham of G. W. Ledingham & Co. signifying the system was ready for use. Mr. Thulin has been in charge of the village waterworks system since July 1, 1920.

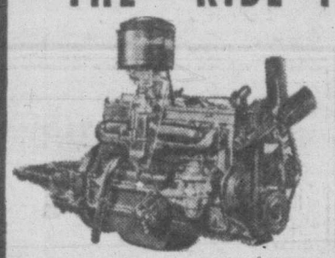
A PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

THE "RIDE THRILL"



Everywhere they're saying, "How's it done—how can a car ride so smoothly?" We can tell you part of the secret is in Oldsmobile's Rigid X-member Frame, cushioned on great deep coil springs at every corner . . . its needle-bearing universal joints and double-acting shock absorbers. But most important of all, there's the miracle-smooth power of Oldsmobile's new Big Six Engine, now even more powerful and smooth than ever before!

THE "STYLE THRILL"

You don't have to own an Oldsmobile to enjoy this thrill! Just to watch the lovely profile of a Futuramic Beauty roll by on the road will give you a lift. But only the owner can experience all of Oldsmobile's "Style Thrill" . . . not just that fleet-flowing first-glance smartness, but the painstaking perfection of every last detail, outside and in. You'll enjoy that beauty more and more through all the years you proudly drive your Futuramic Oldsmobile!

Expect Big Month In City Building

J. W. Oosterink, chief city building inspector, reported today 172 permits were issued during September for work costing $309,558 and it was expected that when plumbing and wiring permits were added the value would reach $400,000.

In the preceding month 227 permits were issued for work costing $584,748 but these figures included three large projects: a $150,000 apartment, $46,000 repairs to Dallas sea wall, and $75,000 alterations to the new Diggon-Hibben building.

In September last year the figures were high, too. Total permits issued numbered 210 and value of work was $605,080.

The totals this month are expected to be boosted with permits for construction of 100 Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation dwellings and the B.C. Power Commission office building.

George Brabant, Macaulay Camp, was remanded to Oct. 17 for trial on one of two charges of assault read against him Monday afternoon in Esquimalt police court. He pleaded guilty to assaulting his wife, but not guilty to a charge of assaulting Denise Perry.

Whaling Becomes Thriving Industry For Manitoba Plant

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—Thirty-five tons of blubber every week have been slithering through the new whale processing plant here, raising an ancient occupation to the status of a thriving industry.

The Adanac Whale and Fish Products has completed its first season of operation, with an average of 50 white whales passing weekly over the flensing tables. In marked contrast to whaling in olden times, every part of the 18-foot mammals is used commercially.

The blubber becomes a light, amber-colored oil used in England in the manufacture of oleomargarine. Bones become fertilizer, meat is sent to Norway to be processed for human consumption.

Even the entrails, which with bones and meat were once regarded as waste, are transformed into mash for female foxes and mink in the breeding season, and for their whelps.

The whales are caught in large nets, towed into the plant water area by small boats, and lugged up a sliding ramp to the factory. Men with long-handled, curved knives strip or "flense" the blubber, and machines tear it away from the carcass. The products are quick-frozen and stored in refrigerators after rendering and crushing.

Survey Ships Due Back For Winter

The hydrographic survey vessels William J. Stewart and Parry are due back in Victoria in approximately 10 days to lay up for the winter, it was reported today by W. K. Willis, officer in charge of the Dominion hydrographic service here.

At present the William J. Stewart is in the Principi Channel area and the Parry is in the Skeena River area.

Plan Commission To Manage Airport

VANCOUVER (CP)—A civic airport committee approved a by-law Monday calling for the appointment of a five-man commission to manage Vancouver's International Airport.

The by-law must pass a formal meeting of council, but it is expected clearance will be made on or before Nov. 15.

The commission, consisting of four technical members and an alderman, will be responsible for the use, operation, regulation, protection and government of the airport.

Salt Spring Island Fishermen Give Aid

The worthwhile work done by Community Chests has come to be known throughout Canada. So it is that when an appeal is made each year for public subscriptions, response comes from people in small, out-of-the-way communities as well as from those in big cities.

Tangible proof of this was to be found today at the Douglas Street headquarters of the Greater Victoria chest campaign.

Among letters received in the morning mail was one sent by four fishermen at Cusheon Lake, Salt Spring Island. Their note wished the campaign here success and enclosed was $10.

C.C.L. Calls For Labor Code On National Scale

OTTAWA (CP)—A national labor code covering all workers was demanded today by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

A resolution adopted at the C.C.L.'s annual convention here declared the present set-up of provincial codes "conflicts in many ways with the right of workers to organize."

It added the system has too many technicalities that are "translated in favor of unscrupulous employers."

(The federal code now covers only certain industries such as railways, communications and shipping).

The resolutions asked the C.C.L. executive to continue to exert every effort to get a code covering every worker.

Murray Cotterill, C.C.L. political action director, declared the Canadian government at least should bring under its code immediately the steel and meat-packing industries.

He declared there was only one way to force the government to do anything about the code—"scare them into action."

He said the proposed code was needed to maintain industrial peace in basic industries.

Fred Dowling, national director of the United Packing-house Workers, said the labor relations packing-house industry now were hampered by divided jurisdictions.

"It is a very deplorable situation," he said. He thought most of the packing companies favored national bargaining for the industry. Perhaps the only exception was the Swift Company.

Pat Conroy, congress national secretary-treasurer, said the question of a national code was one of the most important that could come before any labor body.

Knocks Down Prisoner

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A grief-stricken husband landed a solid blow Monday on the chin of a 20-year-old native charged with the fatal stabbing of his wife.

The distraught husband, Reed Peterson, and John F. Chebetnoy, met in the corridor of the federal building, where the youth had appeared in court to hear the murder charge read.

Chebetnoy is charged with murder for stabbing 28-year-old Alice Peterson last Saturday at Girdwood.

As Chebetnoy stepped out, accompanied by members of the marshal's staff, Peterson moved toward the youth and threw a single punch. Chebetnoy toppled backward. He made no effort to shield himself.

Company Building Jet Airliner Gets Federal Assistance

TORONTO (BUP) — Walter Deusher, vice-president of A. V. Roe (Canada) Ltd., indicated today the government had underwritten construction of a jet-powered airliner his company is building at nearby Malton.

Deusher said the government had made "certain contributions" to help the company over production and engineering obstacles. He said that as a result, it was expected the plane, called the C-102, would be ready for delivery to airlines not later than the latter part of 1952.

Deusher did not elaborate other than to say the federal aid had been advanced under the authority of Trade Minister C. D. Howe.

The prototype jetliner, first of its kind to be produced in the British Commonwealth, was successfully test-flown earlier this year.

British test pilot Jimmy Orrell of Manchester said its development had "achieved something in three years which has not been achieved at home."

He said the plane handled "like a piec eof cake" and was designed for a maximum speed of some 420 miles an hour, about 100 m.p.h. faster than conventional-type four-engined commercial aircraft.

Victoria Boys' Band will hold a parents' meeting, Wednesday, at the home of C. A. Rowles, 2701 Asquith Street, whn the question of sponsors and reorganization will be discussed. Musical numbers will be given by two young bandsmen and Mr. Rowles will give a talk on instruments.

COUNTY CLUB

BY HOLLOWAY HORN

INSTALLMENT 15

HAS SADIE A HUSBAND?

IT WAS Dollimore's turn to grin; but he said nothing as he rose from the table.

"Have a cigar," Blaunberg suggested when they were alone. "I saw that you were on that case at that Country Club. And that you managed to have a good time there."

Yes. I've come to you in connection with it."

"I didn't kill her," Blaunberg said, solemnly.

"Did you recognize any of the names which came out in the Mossford case?" Dollimore asked as he blew out a series of perfect smoke rings.

"Yes. Your own, Dolly. I was quite thrilled to see how nicely you were getting on."

"No kidding, Monty. I'm dead keen on getting away with the case. It was a particularly brutal murder. You don't stand for that kind of thing, I know."

"I do not," said Monty Blaunberg, in a very different tone.

"It struck me that they were the class of crook who might use a place like this until you rumbled them," Dollimore said casually.

"I had your chief in here the other evening," Blaunberg said quietly, after a momentary silence. "I happen to know him quite well."

"He's got it above the ears, Monty."

"He has, indeed. I thought of mentioning that I know you but decided that it might not be wise."

Dollimore nodded: "Was it in connection with Flash Cardew he came?"

"It was."

"And could you help him?"

"In a way. Cardew had been in here the evening before, as it happened. I'd told him quietly to keep away. He's the least bit too well known for us—broadminded as we are."

Again Dollimore nodded: "You've no idea where I might run into him? I should very much like a chat with Mr. Cardew."

"Yes. The Mossford Country Club—as I told the Chief," Blaunberg said, with a smile.

"That was evidently why I was sent down there. He's not there now."

"I don't suppose he will be there for a while. You've made it too hat for him."

"What about his friend Rolliter?" Dollimore watched his old acquaintance closely as he asked the question.

Blaunberg held his visitor's glance for a moment or so in silence before he asked: "What do you know about him?"

"Hardly anything. But I want to—I'm exceedingly anxious to."

"He's a solicitor, I've heard," said Blaunberg. "And apparently a very able one, too. I like a man who knows his job, dont you?"

"Very much—if the job is one that I like. Go on, Monty. I can see you know the bird. You know that anything you do to help me—to help us—will be treated with absolute confidence."

"He's been here from time to time, but always as a friend of some member or other. He acts for some of the crookedest people in London. I don't like him. Much as he would like to, he does not and has never acted for me."

"He's not actually a crook?"

Blaunberg met the other's eyes and quietly smiled.

"I thought so too," said Dollimore.

"But watch out, Dolly. He's a clever man! Most people who know him are frightened of him. Watch out!"

"Fernandez? Is he a boy-friend of yours?" Dollimore went on.

Again Blaunberg smiled: "He's been in here from time to time, and he's a close friend of Rolliter's—at least, they work together."

"Where does he get the money from to run the club?"

"Mr. Rolliter could tell you. You know what Fernandez is?"

"No."

"A blackmailer. The club was started for that purpose. An indiscreet week-end there has cost certain individuals far more than the prices stated in the artistic little booklet they send out."

"And Sadie Pachmann?"

"No. Not in that name, anyway."

"It's the name on her passport."

"What is she like?"

Dollimore told him. "She has," he went on, "an interest in that club. She isn't merely a dance-hostess there. She's one of them."

"There's not much doubt about it," Monty Blaunberg said at length. "Her name, I believe, used to be Pachmann, but now it's Cardew—that is, if they are actually married and from what I gather they are."

"That's interesting," said Dollimore. "It links things up."

A pretty little plot! — the Chief's words came back to him.

"I'm very much obliged to you, Monty," he said. "You have helped me a great deal. If you 'phone me—and if any of these birds blow in, please do so at once—you know my private number?"

"In Westminster?"

"Yes."

"Sure I will."

Dollimore felt the need of exercise and walked up Cornhill and through the deserted city. At Ludgate Circus he turned to the Embankment and walked the length of it to Westminster. His mind was at work the whole time.

MR. GLINSHE REAPPEARS

A jig-saw puzzle, Ducros called it, but the pieces did fit.

Although it was getting late the House of Commons was still in session, he noticed. He was tired, and turned into the little square where his flat was situated, with relief. Instincitvely he glanced up at the window as he turned the corner and, to his surprise, saw the light in his own sitting room was on.

As he opened the door, Mrs. Ralley, the woman who looked after the three flats the house contained, came from her room in the basement.

"There's a gentleman waiting for you, sir," she said. "I hope I did right. His name is Glinshe."

"Quite right, Mrs. Ralley," Dollimore said and went up the stairs three at a time.

Ronny Glinshe had made himself comfortable and was sitting reading in Dollimore's armchair when he opened the door.

"Oh, hallo, Dolly!" he greeted him.

"Hallo! What brough you up?"

"I turned my job in today and walked out on them. And there's something I want to tell you."

"Go ahead! Have a drink. I'll pour it out while you're talking."

"Thanks. I was in the dance-room when Rolliter and Fernandez and the Pachmann woman returned from the inquest, feeling, as you can imagine, jolly fed up. I had been in charge of the whole place all the afternoon and when the bunch returned they went at once to Fernandez' office. The whole thing was unmistakable; they're acting together.

"The office opens on to a small terrace and I strolled around there. I'm not in the habit of evesdropping but this evening what I did, I did deliberately Fernandez and Rolliter were both very angry and their voices came out on to the terrace through a window which was slightly open. Fernandez has got something belonging to Mrs Lewin which Rolliter wants. At least Rolliter is certain that he's got it. Fernandez denies it. Sadie Pachmann was doing her best to pacify the two men. I heard Rolliter say quite clearly: 'The will was in her jewel case. It's a will apparently that is missing. Rolliter thinks Fernandez has it and judging from his vehement denials I should think that he has."

Dollimore nodded. "That's another piece filled into the jig saw," he said. "I'm very much obliged to you, Ronny."

"I slipped away and they didn't know that I had overheard. I felt somehow that the whole matter was important. Mrs. Lewin's name was not mentioned, but references to the old woman were apparently to her. I'd had enough and went upstairs and packed my bags and just sheered off."

"Fernandez will probably report your disappearance to the police," Dollimore said with a smile. "He has a sense of humor, that gentleman!"

"I suppose I should have reported my intention to them? But there was only one bobby there and he seemed half asleep."

"Ducros will be back there in the morning. Where are you staying?"

"With my brother in Charing Court. Unlike me, he's a very prosperous person."

"Was Miss Stenning there?"

"I didn't see her after she came in with you. You disappeared pretty quickly, too. You got some wonderful publicity in the paper tonight, I see."

"Rather—confound them!"

"Well, I'll toddle along, Dolly. I've got a part in the new play at the Coronet Theatre, by the way—my brother fixed it for me. Rehearsals start on Monday so I shouldn't have been there much longer in any case."

The following morning Dollimore called at Rolliter's office in Goweril Street. In accord with the regulations of his department, Dollimore was accompanied by a fellow official—Detective Sergeant Murrayfield. The marked "Enquiries" was open by a peroxide blonde who would have been more at home in the atmosphere of a saloon bar than a solicitor's office.

"Good morning. I want to see Mr. Rolliter."

"Then I'm afraid you will be disappointed," the blonde said with a smile as she looked Dollimore up and down. "He's not in. What name?"

"Inspector Dollimore, of Scotland Yard," Dollimore said sharply. He disliked all peroxide blondes and this one more than most.

"He's not in, anyway. He's down in the country."

"When do you expect him back?"

"I can't say. Is there anything I can do?"

"Please let him know that I called and ask him to let me know when he returns."

"What's your number"

"Whitehall 1212," said Dollimore.

Huskies Have Had Enough Of The Irish

SEATTLE (AP)—A University of Washington regent, who asked anonymity, said late Monday that Washington never would again schedule a football game with Notre Dame.

"We can get plenty of games with 'name' teams," he said, "without having to subject our players to the kind of football we saw Saturday."

Four Washington backs and one lineman were injured in the game won by the Irish, 27 to 7. All are expected to be ready for action against Oregon State College next Saturday.

The regent's statement came after Notre Dame coach Frank Leahy sharply criticized the four game officials who called 10 major penalties against the Irish, most of them for holding or unnecessary roughness. Notre Dame lost 135 yards from penalties, Washington 20.

The game ended a two-year, home-and-home series.

Must Hold Overwhelming Atomic Advantage—Baruch

NEW YORK (UP) — Russia's atomic explosion means the U.S. must maintain overwhelming advantage in the development of atomic weapons and a stand-by mobilization plan, Bernard Baruch said tonight.

The presidential adviser and drafter of a program for international control of atomic energy offered a four-point program in response to requests for comment on the reported atomic explosion in Russia.

He urged:

1. That the United States stand pat in insisting on nothing less than a truly effective international control of atomic energy.

2. Until such safe and sure control is obtained, "maintain our overwhelming advantage in the development of atomic weapons."

3. Re-examination of the strategy of peace-making.

4. Immediate enactment of a standby mobilization plan, including a thorough-going civilian defence program.

"We dare not wait until war has begun and bombs are falling to begin debate on what should be done in the control of prices, wages and rent, the elimination of profiteering, the rationing of scarce necessities, priorities, the civilian defence of our cities and other measures we know would have to be taken in event of war," Baruch said.

He said his standby mobilization program was not urged in any "alarmist" sense.

"I urged it before the Second World War when it might have prevented Hitler's blitzkrieg," he said. "I urged it before the Soviet 'atomic explosion.' Properly done, it could prove our most effective single deterrent against another war."

Baruch, 79-year-old adviser to six Presidents, said outlawing the atomic bomb to eliminate the threat of atomic destruction "is not that simple."

"A would-be aggressor," he said, "could divert seemingly 'peaceful fissionable' material into an instrument of international blackmail and destruction."

Baruch said President Truman was "wise" in informing the people of the Russian atomic explosion. "It swells the already heavy burden of responsibility every American bears," Baruch said. "I have no doubt that we shall measure up to this responsibility, if we are told what is expected of us."

Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association will hold its monthly meeting in K. of P. Hall next Friday afternoon at 2. Films will be shown.

New Transit Fare Scale Accepted By Saanich Council

While Saanich Council wishes a re-examination of the companies' accounts to verify claims of operating losses, the municipal body meeting Monday night unanimously accepted increased transit fares approved by the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee.

Council will ask the Public Utilities Commission, final arbiter, for a re-examination of the accounts of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. and the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

Saanich is the first to approve the agreement in Greater Victoria. New scale would increase the price of tickets in the three-and-one-half-mile zone from four for 30 cents to three for 25 cents, abolish tickets to Zones Two and Three and raise the price of the weekly pass from $1.35 to $1.75.

Agreement also calls for a 2½ per cent reduction in service on some routes.

Says Canada Shipping Unable To Compete With Foreign Rates

HALIFAX (CP) — A shipping company spokesman said today Canadian shipowners would lose less money by tying up their ships than trying to compete with other countries in world-wide cargo hauls.

President Harry Mathers of Acadia Overseas Freighters Ltd. said this was because of dwindling freight rates, which were falling under keen competition and more recently, sterling devaluation.

Canadian shipowners, endeavoring to maintain high standards, could not compete with nations whose vessels would carry cargo for less. Existing freight rates on cargoes transported by British ships, for example, were one-half Canadian rates.

Mr. Mathers said that when the pound was devalued, freight rates — paid in sterling — remained unchanged. Thus Canadian carriers stood to lose the difference.

Another factor which aggravated the situation was that nations buying in Canada paid for their purchases in dollars. With a shortage of dollars, they were cutting these purchases and turning to sterling areas for imports. Therefore, the field open to Canadian export cargo carriers was narrowing.

WHEAT RATES

Two years ago, the freight rate on 9,000 bushels of wheat between the St. Lawrence River and Antwerp was as high as $13.50. Now it was $4.25.

At Montreal, A. L. Lawes, president of the Montreal Shipping Co. Ltd., said devaluation had placed the "last nail in the coffins for Canadian shippers."

"At least half a dozen ocean freighters of the Montship Lines will be tied up in port because of increased costs of operation and decreased returns on freight rates," he said in an interview.

"We can lose less money by tying up the ships."

He denied reports that shipowners are organizing an appeal to the Dominion government for financial aid.

He added, however, that "if the government wishes to maintain a Canadian - manned merchant marine it must do something in the way of subsidies."

Civilian Tells Of Voyage With Navy

The wonderment of a civilian who had been in a "rut" as a schoolmaster in Victoria for 40 years at the knowledge and training of an ordinary seaman in Canada's navy was humorously described Monday to Victoria Gyros.

Speaking at the service club's luncheon at the Empress Hotel, K. C. Symons, headmaster of St. Michael's School, told of a trip he made recently to California ports aboard the destroyer Crescent. His amazement as he learned of life at sea (all the while being "treated like a king,") was brought out in the educator's wry English manner which kept the near-record turnout of Gyros laughing throughout.

On the more serious side, the speaker said he was impressed with the efficiency of the naval personnel and with the accuracy of the formation maintained between the Crescent and H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, the other vessel making the southern trip.

Brent Murdoch, in a brief talk, told of the work of the Community Chest and urged support by city businessmen.

Ross "Bud" Hocking, installed Saturday as president of the Gyro Club, was in the chair.

New U.S. Tuna Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Fish and Wildlife Service has forecast a production record, for the fifth consecutive year, in the country's tuna-canning industry. The $112,612,296 tuna pack for 1948 was 7,037,758 cases, about 1,100,000 more than in 1947.

Cougars To Ice Young Squad Against Rockets

When the Victoria Cougars play host to the Tacoma Rockets Thursday night in a pre-season exhibition game at the Victoria Memorial Arena, fans will see the junior farm clubs of two National Hockey League clubs—Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers—in action.

SCORING ACE—Tommy Druce, centre-forward for the Victoria United, is currently the top goal-getter in the Pacific Coast Soccer League with five to his credit in two games. Druce, out of action with an injured knee for two weeks, came back Saturday to score both goals for United in their 2 to 1 decision over North Shore. Druce will centre the forward line for the locals again next Saturday, when the visiting St. Andrews squad provides the opposition. United will journey to New Westminster on Thanksgiving Day to play the Royals.

Owner Lester Patrick of the Cougars has his club affiliated with the Habitants, and Manager-coach Murray Patrick's Rockets are tied up with the vast Blueshirt organization of which incidentally, Lester has been the main cog and guilding light for 25 years.

Four Cougars — defencemen Eddie Marineau and Tom Rockey and two forwards, Georges Bougie and Eddie Mazur—are the property of Montreal. Mazur at 20 years old, is the youngest member of the club; Rockey, 23, is the oldest of the four players belonging to Montreal, and Bougie and Marineau both are 22. The four Canadien proteges are young enough to develop into potential N.H.L. stars.

FUTURE STARS

Tacoma has several boys on its club on whom the Rangers have not given up and who may jump to New York via St. Paul and New Haven, two more Ranger farm clubs, in the United States and American Leagues, respectively.

Gus Gustavsen, 22-year-old Tacoma defenceman from Timmins, Ont., played with the New York Rovers last season and is being groomed for bigger things. Gus is one of the few remaining old school defencemen in this modern day of hockey. He gets a tremendous boot out of flattening opposing forwards, and leaves the goal scoring to the forwards.

Other Rockets who are still potential Ranger material include goalkeeper Doug Stevenson, defenceman Bill Jenkins, and forwards Neil Andrews, Doug Adam, Doug Toole, Andy Lambrecht, and Mel "Pee-Wee" Read.

Fern Perrault and Ron Rowe, two of the big scoring threats on last season's Tacoma club will not be in uniform tonight as they are fighting for a position on the New Haven club of the American circuit. If Fern and Ron fail to make the jump, Coach Muzz Patrick expects to have these two standouts back, bolstering a club, while short in quantity, is packed full of goal-scoring forwards and hard-to-pass defencemen.

Franke Selke, Montreal general manager, and Dick Irvin, Canadian coach, are keeping close tabs on Marineau, Rockey, Bougie and Mazur. Frank Boucher, New York manager, and Lynn Patrick, Murray's brother and coach of the Rangers, already have their fingers on those Tacoma players deserving of promotion.

PLAY WEDNESDAY

The Cougars get into action against Tacoma Wednesday night at Nanaimo before taking the ice here on Thursday night. The P.C.H.L. competition starts at New Westminster Saturday night and Victoria's home opener will pit the Cougars against the Portland Penguins on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day, Monday, Oct. 10 at 3.

A brisk sale of tickets for the opener was reported during the first day of activity yesterday but plenty of seats still are available for both the exhibition game Thursday and the league opener here next Monday.

Bums' Record Makes Them Poor Risk For Winning Series

NEW YORK (AP)—If it is true that there always is a first time, then it is not too fantastic to picture Brooklyn Dodgers as the world champions of 1949.

Off their record in world series play, the Brooks are a poor risk. They've been in four of these things and lost them all. Only once did they managed to extend their foes to the limit of seven games. Once they won two games and twice they had difficulty winning one.

On the other hand, New York Yankees, representing the American League, have had remarkable success in these fall classics. They've been in 15 and lost only four. In fact, they've won 10 of their last 11.

The Bronx Bombers whipped the Brooks in five games in 1941 and in seven in 1947.

Dodger fandom is divided into two groups. "Why bet on them Bubs?" the pessimists growl. "They never win one of them there world series."

The die-hard optimists, on the other hand, say knowingly, "this is the Bums' year. They've got the law of averages on their side."

Good Crowd At Sidney Shoot

A large number of hunters of Victoria and Sidney stayed off the game trails Sunday to enjoy some trap shooting at the sportsman's special program staged by the North Saanich Rod and Gun Club at the Sidney road grounds.

Prize-winners were: A Class—1, Lou Horth, 49x50; 2, Clarke Atchison, 47x50. B Class—1, Harvey Lutz, 47x5x0; 2, Joe Gibault, 46x50. C Class—1, Dr. A. D. Bechtel, 45x50; 2, Cec Rhodes, 40x50. D Class—M. Baldwin and Eddie Eng tied, Baldwin winning the shootoff. Sidney's W. Lumley won the hidden prize.

World's Champion Fisherman

Dr. C. L. LeDow of Philadelphia established a record for the most bluefin tuna captured by a rod and line angler anywhere, when he landed 11 in the boiling waters of Soldier's Rip off Wedgeport, N.S. His catch totaled some 2,000 pounds. Previous mark was eight. This Nova Scotia Bureau of Information photo shows Dr. LeBow with his prize haul in the background. The rip, described as the world's richest tuna fishing grounds, is the scene of the International Tuna Angling Cup match and this year a record number of fish for one day and for the season were boated.—(CP Photo)

Canadiens To Bank On Veterans, Sophomores In N.H.L. Campaign

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Just where Montreal Canadiens will finish in the coming National Hockey League campaign rests with a band of capable veterans, a sprinkling of sophomores and only one or two rookies new to professional company.

It is a stand-put club. On that basis alone its supporters feel it should do no worse than its third-place finish of last season.

Then the club had to fight a merciless injury jinx. Star centre Elmer Lach, the league's point-scoring leader the season before, was out for 24 of the 60 games and Butch Bouchard, one of the ranking N.H.L. defencemen, missed 33. His mate, Kenny Reardon, was out of 14 games.

If the fates are kinder this year, general manager Frank Selke and coack Dick Irvin have high hopes for the club.

Irvin hasn't been hurrying his men, particularly the veterans, at the St. Hyacinthe training camp. He aims at having the squad reach top form when they meet Chicago Black Hawks here Oct. 13 in Montreal's first game of the season. But in exhibition games his team has shown flashes of form that have been highly gratifying to the coach.

ROOKIE ON PUNCH LINE

The one major change on the club to date has been the injection of rookie Gilles Dube at left wing on the line with Elmer Lach and Maurice Richard. Dube came up from Sherbrooke of the Quebec Senior League and had shown well in pre-season play.

If this 23-year-old 163-pounder can stand the gaff and bring to the N.H.L. a good share of the scoring punch he produced in the tough senior league, he will be a fixture in the job that caused much worry and experimentation last season.

MANY VETERANS

In pre-season play the veterans have shown no signs of slipping. Lach is 31 years old; so are Billy Reay and Joe Carveth. Richard is 28, the same age as defencemen Ken Reardon and Glen Harmon.

But if time does start to take some toll, it should more than compensate with the experience of a year or so in the N.H.L. of such youngsters as Gerry Plamondon, Leo Gravelle and Normand Dussault.

Canadiens have defence strength, in depth and ability, and veteran goalie Bill Durnan, now 34, says he is good enough to win the Vezina Trophy, as low-average goalie, for the sixth time.

DEFENCE EXPERIENCED

The six defencemen now carried all have solid experience. Bouchard and Reardon likely will team up again. The other pairs are Harmon and Roger Leger, and Hal Laycoe and Doug Harvey.

As his No. 2 line, after the Lach-Richard-Dube trio, coach Irvin has been using Billy Reay, brilliant centre who carried much of the load last season, with Plamondon and Carveth.

The No. 3 lie is the speedy combination of Cote, Dussault and Gravelle. The fourth line, specializing in defensive play, penalty-killing and break-away threats, has been made up of Ken Mosdell at centre and Floyd Curry and Rip Riopelle on the wings.

Extra forwards with the squad are Bobby Fillion and Tod Campeau.

Irvin has not indicated who, if any, he will drop from this 21-man squad. He can dress only 18, including goaltender, for N.H.L. games. He may possibly send two forwards and a defenceman elsewhere to keep them playing regularly instead of alternating with others of the squad as players and spectators.

Bankhead Hurls Royals To Win Over Indianapolis

MONTREAL (CP) — Three runs in the bottom half of the fifth inning were enough to give Montreal Royals a 3 to 1 victory over Indianapolis Indians in the third game of the Little World Series here last night.

Indians now lead the best-of-seven series two games to one. All remaining games will be played in Indianapolis.

Royals managed only three hits off Mel Queen, two of them coming in the fifth when, aided by an error, the Montrealers scored all their runs. Queen was lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh and Chet Johnson held Royals hitless until the end.

Meanwhile, Indians reached Dan Bankhead for five hits but managed to tally only once in the sixth inning.

Bankhead held Indians hitless until the fifth when catcher Clyde Kluttz singles. The big negro right-hander struck out six batters and walked only four.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	1	5	2
Montreal	3	3	3

Queen, Johnson (7) and Kluttz; Bankhead and Atwel.

INTER-CLUB GOLF

Women from the Uplands Golf Club captured the annual Dowell Cup team match from members of the Colwood Club over the week-end by a 6 to 4 score.

LEGION PRACTICE

The Canadian Legion soccer team will hold a practice at Macdonald Park Wednesday, starting at 6.30.

Who Won Race? Query Facing Bike Riders

VANCOUVER (CP)—Did Ontario bicycle ace Bill Hamilton of Oshawa win the 62-mile road race Sunday or did he win the 59-mile race?

Answer to this vexed question is proving a major bone of contention among competitors in the British Empire Games bicycle trials, held here Saturday and Sunday.

They believe stylish three Rivers, Que., star Real Lamothe was the actual winner of the gruelling distance race. Games officials named Hamilton as the winner, with Lamothe second and Winnipeg's Eric Oland third.

Competitors said Monday Hamilton completed only 59 miles of the distance—one lap short—and was far behind Lamothe at the finish.

Bicycle stars point that Oland caught the flying Frenchman as they were nearing the finish wire, and cut him out from a clear run. Hamilton flashed from the rear, to nip Lamothe on the finishing line. But, they say, Hamilton hadn't completed the full course.

In an effort to solve the mystery, a reporter Monday went straight to the man who should know—Henry Van Berkel who is district chairman of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association.

"Who won the race, Mr. Van Berkel?" he asked.

"Hamilton did.

"But Real Lamothe is supposed to have cycled the full 62 miles, and Hamilton is supposed to have only covered 59 miles.

"That's right, but Hamilton rode the best race. . . . So he's the winner.

"Yes, but if Hamilton didn't ride the full distance, how could he be the winner?

"Well, it's not a question of who won, but who rode the best race," said Mr. Van Berkel.

"I see. But shouldn't Lamothe have been chosen winner, even though Hamilton rode the best race?"

"No, I decided Hamilton rode the best race. . . . But personally, I think Lamothe was the winner.

"Uh huh," said the reporter.

Odds Favor Yankees But Dodgers Have Best Club

NEW YORK (UP)—Man for man the Yankees don't rate as favorites over the Dodgers at all.

Brooklyn—all around—has a far better outfield, at least as good an infield, and the catching rates a toss-up. The Yankees have a little more pitching depth, even though a lot depends on one man—relief hurler Joe Page.

That is why the betting on this series is so unusual. Normally the oddsmakers go on cold and hard statistics and the edge there goes to the Dodgers, as it did so often in the past to those murderous old Yankee teams that made a habit of wrapping up the world series in four straight games.

But the bettors don't feel that way this time. They are quoting the odds at as high as 2 to 1 in favor of the Yankees, yet on paper they don't rate as the choice.

JOE BELOW PAR

Take that outfield for example. Ordinarily, the big man would be Joe DiMaggio and it is true he has the top batting average with a .346 mark. But remember Joe is still below par because of his attack of virus pneumonia that waylaid him two weeks ago and kept him out of action until the final two days of the campaign.

Behind DiMaggio in the marks come six Dodger gardeners, young guys all, strong as oxen and speedy as lubricated lightning. There's Carl Furillo in right field with a .322 mark and a dizzy .424 figure for the last six weeks of the campaign. What's more he owns the best throwing arm in baseball. Then there is Luis Olmo, the gay blade from Puerto Rico who came back from the Mexico League to hit .308, Marv Rackley and Tommy (Buckshot) Brown at .303, Jersey's pride Gene Hermanski at .299 and baseball's new rover boy, Duke Snider in centre field at .292.

OLD YANKEE PUNCH GONE

But alas, where are the rest of the Yankee outfielders? Well, 19 points below Snider comes Hank Bauer at .273, Gene Woodling at .270, Charley (the once great) Keller at .250, Cliffy Mapes at .243 and Johnny Lindell at .242. Shades of Ruth, Gehrig and Lazzeri.

In the infield the big pro of both outfits is Tommy Henrich and even though he is a converted outfielder, you have to give the accolade to him over Brooklyn's young Gil Hodges, who is nevertheless the best first baseman in the National League.

World Series Starting Line-ups

NEW YORK (AP) — If Don Newcombe and Allie Reynolds start the first game of the Brooklyn-New York Yankee World Series tomorrow, these are the likely starting line-ups:

BROOKLYN	BA
Reese, ss	.277
Jorgensen, 3b	.267
Snider, cf	.292
Robinson, 2b	.342
Hermanski, lf	.298
Furillo, rf	.322
Hodges, 1b	.286
Campanella, c	.287
Newcombe, p	(17-8)

NEW YORK
Rizzuto, ss	.276
Henrich, 1b	.287
Berra, c	.277
DiMaggio, cf	.346
Lindell, lf	.242
Johnson, 3b	.251
Mapes, rf	.235
Coleman, 2b	.275
Reynolds, p	(17-6)

Game Time: 12 noon, C.S.T.

Henrich leads him a point in hitting at .287 to .286 and he has one more homer, 24 to 23. Hodges batted in the most runs, 114 to 85, but in the clutch Henrich is the man they go for.

At second there just isn't much comparison. Jackie Robinson, the National League batting crown winner at .342 is superior at bat, in the field and on the bases to Jerry Coleman, the hard-plugging Yankee rookie.

TOSS-UP AT SHORT

At short it is a head-on toss-up between the two top men in the majors at that spot. Both Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees and Pee Wee Reese batted .277, both are great base stealers and fine lead-off men, excellent bunters, and absolutely brilliant in the field.

At third, it is power against finesse. Were Billy Cox, the Dodger regular, up and available, it would be no contest defensively, but even behind him Eddie Miksis is as good a fielder as Billy Johnson and eminently better than Bobby Brown. So is Spider Jorgensen. Johnson and Brown, though, are dependable hitters.

Roy Campanella of the Brooks is a better catcher than rapidly improving Yogi Berra and he has a little better batting average, .287 to .277. None of the other catchers are standouts and should see little action.

In one department in which the Yankees used to own the patent for the major leagues the Dodgers had another big edge. That was in total home runs with 151 against 115 for the Yankees. The Brooks, who whipped up a patent of their own on high-speed on the base paths had 113 stolen bases to 57 for the Yankees and had a team batting mark of .270 to .267.

PITCHING EDGE

The Yankees have the top pitcher in Vic Raschi at 21 and 10, and also the top percentage man among the starters in Allie Reynolds at 17 and 6. In contrast, the Dodgers are the first National League club since the Cardinals of 1931 to win a pennant without a 20-game winner. Rookie Don Newcombe at 17 and 8 is their bellwether and lefty Preacher Roe at 15 and 6 goes for the games they have to win.

Behind Raschi and Reynolds for the Yankees come two of the most devastating lefties in the business, Tommy Byrne, who was a Yankee stopper for many weeks with a 15 and 7 figure and Ed Lopat, the probable opening day pitcher with 15 and 10. And of course there is the remarkable Page, whose 13 and 8 mark tells little about what he did, going into 60 games, saving perhaps half of them.

Allen, Barber To Handle Mutual's Series Broadcast

NEW YORK (AP)—The world series starting Wednesday will be broadcast over 740 radio stations and 51 television stations—peak totals for both mediums.

It's estmiated up to 75,000,000 will hear the radio play-by-play descriptions of the championship struggle between New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, and 17,500,000 to 20,000,000 will watch by television.

Both radio and television broadcasts will start at 1:45 E.D.T. (11:45 a.m. C.S.T.)—or 15 minutes before game time—for weekday contests. If the series is undecided Sunday, the broadcast and telecast that day will start at 2:45 p.m. E.D.T.

The Mutual Broadcasting System, which owns exclusive air rights to the series, will handle all the radio broadcasts. Its 520 regular affiliates will be augmented by some 100 United States independent stations, and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The broadcasts also will be beamed overseas.

Radio announcers for the series will be Mel Allen and Walter (Red) Barber.

Joe Louis At 226 Scores Easy Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe Louis, retired world heavyweight champion, slammed Abel Cestac of Argentina all over the Griffith Stadium ring last night in the first of a series of exhibition boxing matches.

Only 3,565 fans turned out for the affair, paying $7,881 to watch the brown bomber. Louis weighed 226, 11 pounds more than when he defended his title against Joe Walcott last June.

Joe Kuhel Released

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington Senators, who finished last in the American League, Monday released Manager Joe Kuhel.

"We just had to make a change," said Clark Griffith, club president.

Griffith said no successor will be named for the time being.

Eddie Mazur, 20-year-old left winger, has joined the Cougars, business manager Fred Hutchinson of the P.C.H.L. club announced today.

Mazur will take part in today's practice session at the Memorial Arena and will be seen in action when the Cougars play Tacoma Rockets in an exhibition game here Thursday night.

Veteran, Apprentice Stealing Jockey Honors At Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — A veteran jockey and a 17-year-old apprentice continued Monday to outshine thoroughbreds at the suburban Long Branch Race Track. Together they added six straight wins to their near record-breaking score for the season.

Both veteran Pat Remillard and Charlie Bright were born in the United States and each is booting for all he is worth to capture the jockey championship of Canada.

Remillard rode his first win aboard the favorite Argyroula in the first. His three other wins of the day—to bring his season's total to 74—were Last Kiss in the fifth, Prince Aethel in the sixth and Idle Hero in the eighth.

Bright rode two winners to bring his season's total to 77. In the second he was aboard Delovely Lil and in the third brought in the long-shot, Dune.

Last year jockey Frank Dougherty rode 91 winners.

MANCHESTER, Eng. (UP)—Ronnie Clayton, 126¼, England, outpointed Manuel Ortiz, 125¼, Mexico (10).

U.S. Imports Lead Eastern Football Scoring Race

TORONTO (CP)—Two American imports lead in the eastern Canada senior football scoring race.

Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press show that Howie (Touchdown) Turner took over top spot among big four players with his dazzling 16-point display Saturday, while Merle Hapes of Hamilton Tigers lengthened his lead in the Ontario Rugby Football Union by scoring six points.

Turner, a veteran among the imports, now has 40 points in six games, four points ahead of native son Joe Krol of Toronto Argonauts. An ankle injury Saturday which may keep Krol idle for weeks will probably rob him of any chance of taking the scoring honors. Royal Copeland of Argos is third in the big four with 30 points.

Hapes, who once played with the profesisonal New York Giants and is playing coach of the Tigers, has 31 points in five games. Joe Capriotti of Tigers, a Canadian product, ranks second in the O.R.F.U. with 22 points on kicking. Import Jim Caine of the Tigers is third with 21.

MEDAL WINNER

Dick Laird, shooting a net 62, became the medalist in the qualifying round of the annual Lewis-Feesey Cup golf at the Uplands Golf Club Sunday. W. Dunnaway was runner-up with a net score of 64.

San Diego Wallops Oakland To Gain Coast League Final

It's Hollywood versus San Diego tonight in the final round opener of the $35,000 Governor's Cup playoffs of the Pacific Coast League.

The Padres gained the finals last night with a humiliating 18 to 2 defeat of Oakland. The Padres got to Charlie Gassaway for four runs in the first inning and then climbed all over six more Acorn twirlers.

Allie Clark had four for four including a two-run homer and batted in four runs; Orestes Minoso had five for six and knocked in three tallies. Harvey Storey also batted in four runs on three hits. It was the seventh game of the best out of seven series. Hollywood eliminated Sacramento Sunday.

Lyman Linde will be the Padres' choice tonight. The Hollywood hurler is unnamed.

Short score follows:

Oakland	2	7	5
San Diego	18	17	1

Gassaway, Harrist (1), Cecil (2), Nelson (3), Toolson (5), Tote (6), Tost (7) and Padgett; Barrett and Moore.

Set Practices For Minor Hockey Loop

Junior hockey hopefuls will be among the city's earliest risers Wednesday morning. The first scheduled practice for players in the junior division of the Victoria Minor Hockey League will be held from 6 to 8 Wednesday morning at the Memorial Arena. Players must supply their own skates and sticks.

The next workouts will be held Oct. 11 and 13 from 6 to 9 in the morning. Midget, juvenile and bantam loops will work out together on Saturday morning from 6 to 12.

Lewis-Feesey Golf Billed This Week

The annual Lewis-Feesey Cup golf competition will be held all week at the Uplands Golf Club. Players may arrange matches any day, but all results must be posted by Sunday evening.

Notre Dame Trips Washington

Notre Dame's fancy halfback, Emil Sitko, sits on the head of his tackler, Chuck Olsen of Washington (white helmet, ground), while teammate Francis Spaniel takes a seat on the same Washington player. Moving in are Washington's Bruce Rehn (56, foreground) and John Precheck (78, right). Notre Dame triumphed in the game played in Seattle, 27 to 7.

Wilson In Final Shot At Boat Mark Today

PICTON, Ont. (CP)—Harold Wilson and his $100,000 Miss Canada IV speedboat again today will attack the world's record for powerboats. This time they have the confidence born of having actually, but unofficially, beaten the mark.

In one run yesterday the 37-year-old Wilson from Ingersoll, Ont., sent his big boat roaring over the measured mile at 142.2 miles an hour. The 10-year-old record set by Sir Malcolm Campbell is 141.7. Wilson didn't break the record officially, because he failed to race the second lap within 20 minutes, under regulations of the American Speedboat Association.

Association officials later said Wilson would be permitted another try today within the rigid rules governing such competition. He must cover a one-mile course twice, with the elapsed times charting success or failure of his attempt.

The fast run yesterday, which also beat the North American record, was the fifth test run since Saturday. Wilson had set a North American record of 138.6 miles an hour, 12 miles better than the previous mark, in a test run Sunday.

Wilson's speed run yesterday was in waters favorable to his sleek, 2,500 horsepower beauty. But after the first lap, and after Wilson had refuelled, he found the course had flattened out. The water was too smooth for his boat to travel her best on the stepped hull.

The sandy-haired Wilson is confident he can post an official record.

"With some adjustments, she can get up to 150 miles an hour."

ORTIZ BEATEN

MANCHESTER, Eng. (AP)—Ronnie Clayton, British featherweight champion, last night won a 10-round bout from Manuel Ortiz, world bantamweight champion from El Centro, Calif. Ortiz' title was not at stake.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK (AP)—It was in a recent football game between two Ohio high schools, Bexley and Greenfield . . . somewhat confused by a reversion of the substitution rule, Bexley found itself running a play with only 10 men on the field. . . . A few minutes later it happened again . . . then a third time. . . . After mix-up No. 3, a fan shouted from the stands: "Hey, Coach, it's one for each finger then one more."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Peewee Reese wants to know if the Yankees are the only club that wins the American League pennant. . . . "I've been in the world series three times—and each time against the Yankees," Peewee says.

One railroad man estimates it cost his line $80,000 when it became a subway series instead of a Boston-St. Louis sleeper jump.

THE LAST STRAW

Bob Burson was slated to be No. 1 freshman quarterback at Southern California this fall. . . . But the kid just up and left, explaining that he will enter Northwestern when he gets around to it. . . . U.S.C. coaches didn't mind too much, because they have so many good signal-callers, but what really burned them up was the reason he gave for his departure: "I don't like the weather here. It's too hot."

Propose $300,000 Vancouver Stadium

VANCOUVER (CP) — A new $300,000 civic baseball stadium to house the Western International League's Vancouver Capilanos will be debated by city council here today.

Mayor Charles Thompson said Monday detailed plans for construction of the arena have been worked out in a series of closed door meetings between council and Sicks' Capilano Brewery officials.

Expected to materialize as the finest baseball stadium in the eight-city W.I.L. loop, the arena will take shape on the 13-acre Little Mountain site here purchased last year by the Sicks Company.

Officials say the arena will have a seating capacity of 5,000 when opened, but will allow for expansion for up to 15,000. Sicks will lend the city $300,000 for the project.

Pirates Release Sewell, Walker

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates Monday released unconditionally two baseball veterans—pitcher Rip Sewell and outfielder Dixie Walker.

Sewell, at 41, was the oldest Pirate both in years and time of service.

Walker is a mere lad of 38 but he's knocked around the majors 18 years.

Reardon To Quit Following Series

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Umpire Beans Reardon will retire from the business of 'cal 'em as you see 'em" when the world series is over. He said Monday he will go to California and devote full time to a business he has been building up.

Beans—almost nobody in baseball ever called him John Edward—is the dean of the National League umpiring staff, a veteran of 24 seasons. This will be his fifth world series assignment.

Reardon will be 52 in November. He began umpiring with the Western Canada League in 1920 and moved to the Pacific Coast League in 1922.

World Series Rain Checks For Five Members Of Yanks, Dodgers

NEW YORK (UP) — Five tickled guys who felt the endearing kiss of lady luck and made the 1949 world series on a "rain check" still were pinching themselves today to make sure it's true.

Five months ago, a berth on a world series team was far beyond the fondest dream of first baseman Johnny Mize and pitchers Ralph Buxton and Duane Pillette of the New York Yankees and outfielders Marvin Rackley and Luis Olmo of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

But they're in there for a share of the world series purse and the glory that goes with it—Mize, the over-the-hill fence-buster; Pillette and Buxon, the former struggling minor leaguers; Rackley, the "sore-armed" flycatcher who was traded to Pittsburgh when he didn't want to be, and Olmo, the repatriated Mexican League jumper

MIZE PAST PEAK

In the case of Mize, it is ironic that the big tomato-faced guy never played on a world series team during the 10 seasons he ranked one of the National League's foremost sluggers, and then made it when he was far past his peak.

Mize, who batted better than .300 every year until 1948 and won or tied for the National League home run title four times, slowed down considerably this season and manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants made no secret of his desire to unload the big first baseman.

The 35-year-old Mize was waived out of the National League and on Aug. 22 was purchased by the Yankees, who were in desperate straits for a first baseman after Tommy Henrich was injured and rookies Jackie Phillips and Dick Kryhoski failed to measure up.

Mize's unwanted status in the senior circuit was a big blow to his pride, but it's all patched up now.

Buxton, a 35-year-old right-hander was toiling away for Oakland in the Pacific Coast League with little hope of ever reaching the big time because of his age. Pillette, a 23, was doing his best for an inept Newark team that was wallowing in last place in the International League.

Little expecing the fortuitous circumstances that prompted their summons to the majors, Buxton and Pillette were called up hurriedly in Augus when Bob Porterfield and Frank (Spec) Shea suffered sore arms.

ONCE TRADED

Rackley almost was traded out of a world series cut on May 17 when he was sent to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Johnny Hopp and $25,000. Three weeks later, however, president Frank McKinney of the Pirates beefed that Rackley had a sore throwing arm and that Brooklyn boss Branch Rickey had sold him a sore-armed sub instead of a hale and hearty regular.

Rickey took back Rackley and the $25,000—with few misgivings—and the salubrious climate of Ebbets Field healed Marv's ailing arm immediately. He batted .303 for the Dodgers this season.

BOUGHT WAY IN

Olmo, who jumped to the Mexican League in 1946, had to buy his way back to the majors. Freed from his five-year suspension when Commissioner A. B. Chandler lifted the ban on jumpers, June 5, Olmo had to buy his contract with the Maracaibo Club in the Venezuelan League before he could rejoin the Dodgers.

The 30-year-old Puerto Rican, who batted .308 for the Dodgers, doesn't regret the outlay one bit.

Except for Olmo, who plays left field for the Dodgers against left-handed pitching, the only service these Cinderella characters may see in the series will be in pinch-hitting or relief pitching roles—if at all.

Refuse To Comment On Man Refusing To Take Oath On Bible

Justice Department officials in Ottawa today shied away from giving an opinion on whether an applicant for citizenship must take an oath of allegiance on the Bible.

Top officials said the department would make no comment until it had a formal request for an opinion from Judge H. H. Shandley of Victoria who refused yesterday to grant citizenship papers to Linn A. Gale.

Mr. Gale, American-born, refused to swear the oath on the Bible on the grounds that he had no religion and gave a declaration of allegiance instead.

In most cases, legal sources said, the judge would simply make the legal interpretation himself. But in naturalization cases judges often seek the advice of the Justice Department, although they are not required to follow it.

Under the Canada Evidence Act, witnesses may give evidence by affirmation rather than by oath but Judge Shandley said there is no similar provision in the Canada Citizenship Act.

Instead of swearing the oath of allegiance to the King, Mr. Gale gave a declaration of allegiance by affirmation instead.

The judge said he would hold back Gale's citizenship certificate until he could find out if granting it without the oath were legal.

No Hats Off For Court Of Revision

Women's hats entered the discussion when the city's Court of Revision sat Monday on appeals from property owners of 1949 assessments.

A woman appellant was given a $400 cut in the assessment on her home, and when court member Ald. Ed. Williams asked what the reduction would mean to her taxes, Assessor Alf. Joyce replied: "About $14."

Apparently well versed on millinery prices, Ald. Williams figured that $14 would buy a bonnet for the lady and said to her jokingly: "You have a new hat there."

The appellant misunderstood, thinking he was referring to the veiled chapeau she was sporting, and she answered: "Oh, no. I bought this one last year."

When the chuckling had died down, the alderman explained his remark to the confused appellant.

Next case, please . . .

Only One Issue Delays Agreement

Only one issue remains to be settled in negotiations between eight shipyard unions and Victoria Machinery Depot and Yarrows Ltd., according to a spokesman for the Victoria Joint Shipyard Council which represents the 600 members of the unions.

The spokesman said the issue, a relatively minor one, concerned the three-holiday clause. Statutory holidays with pay are allowed workers only after they have been with the company three months.

A Vancouver settlement allows the workers five days' absence within that time. Victoria operators are willing to allow the five days only for compensable accidents, but the unions want the time allowed for illness as well.

Chinese Honor Rev. Lim Yuen

Rev. Lim Yuen, minister of the Chinese Anglican Church and chairman of the board of directors of the Chinese Hospital, one of the most-loved and respected members of the Chinese community, was honored at a banquet in the C.A.C. Gardens.

Many prominent citizens of the Chinese community and more than 50 executive members of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association attended the banquet, which was in the nature of a farewell gathering, for Mr. Yuen will leave shortly for Montreal, where he will retire. He will make his home with a son and daughter-in-law.

Here To Take Over Duties At 'Y'

F. Vivian Shoemaker, right, takes over his new post of general secretary at the local Y.M.C.A. following his arrival here Monday morning. Mr. Shoemaker was greeted in his new office by Archie McKinnon, acting secretary since the resignation of Arnold Ramer last February.

A long ambition was finally realized for F. Vivian Shoemaker on Monday morning when he arrived here from Capreol, Ont., to take over his new duties as general secretary of the local Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Shoemaker, formerly boys' secretary at the local association, expressed a wish that he might return sometime to take over the duties of general secretary when he was made program director of the Winnipeg Y.M.C.A. nine years ago.

He served in that position for three years before being appointed general secretary of the railroad "Y" at Capreol, where he remained for six years.

Mr. Shoemaker was welcomed by J. V. Johnson, president of the "Y" board of directors at a luncheon Monday. Twenty members of the board of directors were present and several made short speeches to welcome the new secretary back to the city.

Speakers included Jack Todd, Art Lees, Ernest Harrison, Ed. Rowbottom, Archie Wills, George Wheaton, Ray Parfitt, Cecil Lewis, Hon. William T. Straith, J. A. Heritage, Warren Martin, Bill Mearns, Norman Moss, Dr. Ben Nicholls, Dr. T. W. A. Gray and Archie McKinnon.

Income Tax On Bus Companies Not Considered In Fare Talks

The suggestion that the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., and the V.I. Coach Lines Ltd. be relieved of paying federal income tax as a means of reducing bus transportation fares was met with mixed feeling today by civic officials.

A report from Vancouver states that the City Council there may ask Ottawa to remove income tax levies from the B.C. Electric.

Ald. Harold M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee, said the question was not considered in recent negotiations with the companies which are seeking fare increases here.

"The reason why," the alderman said, "was that we as a committee were concerned only with what the actual losses of the companies were."

The income tax question was a matter of policy, the alderman said.

If the tax were removed the government would be required to make up this loss in revenue by some other means, and he was not certain how far reaching the effects would be.

Ald. Frank Mulliner, a member of the Greater Victoria committee, made the blunt statement that: "All utilities should pay income tax, public as well as private."

He thought private enterprise should not be penalized by public companies not being required to pay income taxes.

"Income tax is the most equitable means of taxation and if everyone pays everyone is better off," the alderman observed.

Mayor Percy George was guarded in his comment. He endorsed the idea of the tax being removed from the bus companies but, he said, "I am not prepared to press that point."

The question required full analysis, the chief magistrate said. He thought a difficult problem would arise if public companies were required to pay income tax.

On the local bus companies being required to pay the tax the mayor observed that it was the bus patrons who were reaching into their purses.

They were paying two income taxes, their personal tax and indirectly the income tax the companies had to pay.

"So it seems to me that on the face of it the tax should be eliminated, particularly for transportation and power companies," the mayor said.

Report Sought On Ward 6 Finances

The provincial government may rule shortly on the application of Ward Six to secede from Saanich Municipality.

Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald said today that in preparation for making a recommendation to the provincial cabinet he had asked the municipality to supply statements on the amount of money collected in Ward Six and the sums spent in that outlying ward.

The report has not yet been received but the minister indicated when it is available he will launch an immediate study of it to determine what action the provincial government should take toward the application.

No One Hurt, $400 Damage To Trucks

While no persons were injured, about $400 damage was done to two trucks in collision on East Saanich Road near the Royal Oak Cemetery Monday, Saanich police reported. Vehicles were driven by Ronald Polson, Quadra Street, and Peter Brotherston, Piedmont Avenue. Truck driven by Polson and owned by Thomas Kirwin, Douglas Street, was damaged to the extent of $350, police said.

Monthly meeting of the Superannuated Federal Civil Servants of Canada will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 in the auditorium of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, 1616 Blanshard Street.

Dates For Classes Golf, Square Dances And Dressmaking

Registration for the Victoria Night School square dancing class will be held at the Victoria High School gymnasium tonight at 7.30, it was announced today by George Anstey, director of the evening classes.

Anyone interested in registering is invited to attend. Miss Sheila Stanley, physical education instructor at Victoria High, will be the chief instructor and M.C. for the class. She has recently completed a course in the United States where she studied all the latest types of square dancing.

Night school golf class registrations may be sent directly to the office of the Greater Victoria School Board accompanied by the registration fees. Course will start on Oct. 17.

The dressmaking classes will open next week at the Public Market building. Miss Marjorie Gibbons is in charge of registrations. She will be at the dressmaking room of the Hudson's Bay Co. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday between the hours of 10 and 12 in the morning and 2 and 4 in the afternon for anyone interested in registering, Mr. Anstey said.

Injured in a fall Sunday morning in front of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Blanshard Street, St. Joseph Hospital attendants today reported the condition of Patrick Fagan, 67, of 516 Harbinger Street, to be good. He suffered a fractured skull and when picked up by police was bleeding profusely from the right ear.

Australian Native Soon To Be Extinct

Australia's aborigines, now numbering about 50,000, seem slated for extinction within a very short time, Dr. D. S. Davidson, anthropologist at the University of Washington, told a meeting of the Victoria University Extension Association Monday night at Victoria College.

Nomadic hunters for generations, the tribesmen have been losing their fight for existence since the time of the first white settlers. They cannot combat the white man's diseases, Dr. Davidson said, nor can they adjust themselves to the white man's way of living.

The natives have an altogether different outlook on life from the whites, the speaker said. They are not interested in politics or material possessions. They do not seek to possess other people's lands, and at the same time, have no fear of losing their own.

They are true democracies in that they look on all men of their race as brothers. They fight only in defence of honor. Then, the fight ends with drawing of first blood and the combatants feast together.

Britain's Health Better Than Ever

Although opposed to nationalization of industry, R. A. Ford, managing director of Ideal Casements Ltd., a firm which manufactures metal window frames in Reading, Eng., says Britain's populace owes a lot to its Labor government.

"Thanks to the government's welfare schemes, our health is better than it ever was and although there are shortages, we are certainly not starving."

Now in Victoria on business, Mr. Ford predicted the Labor government would be re-elected in the next general election.

With regard to nationalization, Mr. Ford said such a program should never have been undertaken. He thought that since it had, however, there was little chance of the nationalized industries being turned back to private owners.

Thieves Raid Humboldt Store

Thieves who broke into H. A. Lees' confectionery store at 802 Humboldt Street during the night stole a quantity of cigarettes, chocolates and candy, city detectives reported this morning. Entry was gained by the transom over the rear door.

Stolen were 75 packages of cigarettes, four tins containing 50 cigarettes, 20 packages of lifesavers and four boxes of chocolates.

A fine of $50, or in default one month in jail, was imposed against Warren McDonald, sailor, when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of unlawfully having liquor in the Modern Cafe, 546 Fisgard Street, Oct. 1. Charge was laid by Sgt. Peris Atkinson.

Cheque Swindlers Who Hit Victoria Work Other Towns

The two men who defrauded three Victoria stores for $500 with bogus cheques last month, appear to be on a tour across the country working their lucrative swindle.

According to information received by Insp. Harry Mercer, chief of the city police detective branch, two men using the same technique as here have successfully cashed false cheques at Nanaimo, Vancouver and Edmonton.

On the local scene, the sharpers worked as a team and presented six cheques made out to themselves by the same local firm at the three stores. This was done on a Saturday. Cheques were not discovered as forgeries until received by the bank, giving the thieves plenty of opportunity to skip out of town.

Assessment Cut Brings Complaint

Wonders will never cease, city aldermen concluded when they learned at Monday's sitting of the 1949 Court of Revision on property assessments that one property owner had complained her assessment had been reduced by $70.

Assessor Alf Joyce told the tale.

"She said she didn't want to see the assessment on her property lowered," the assessor said, "and she told me she was going to give the difference in taxes to charity."

R. Thornburn Heads Musical Art Society

Robert Thornburn, 500 Gore Street, will be in the chair when the intermediate branch of the Musical Art Society resumes activities for the 1949-50 season Friday night at the Newstead Hall, 734 Fort Street, commencing at 8.

Formerly held on the second Saturday of each month, the society will hold its meetings on the first Friday of each month this year as the hall is not available on Saturdays.

An interesting program has been drawn up by the two program conveners, Madonna McCabe and Raymond Haggart. Guest artist will be Dr. Roger Manning, president of the senior branch of the Musical Art Society.

Changes To Eagles' Hall Cost $28,700

Work is progressing on major alterations to the ground floor of the Eagles Building, 751 View Street, costing $28,700.

This was reported by city building officials today who authorized the work.

Position and size of general offices, recreation room and other quarters are being changed.

Exterior of the building will undergo modernization, too.

Birley, Wade and Stockdill are the architects.

Government Calls P.G.E. Steel Tenders

The provincial government has called tenders for steel to extend the Pacific Great Eastern Railway track from Quesnel to Prince George but the prospects are not good because of the U.S. steel strike.

The government has asked bids for 18,000 tons, including 16,000 tons of 85-pound rails, track fastenings.

The government has asked bids on supplying 18,000 tons. This will be made up of 16,000 tons of 85-pound rails and track fastenings, including angle bars, track bolts, spikes, tie plates and spring washers. Bids are asked on the basis of f.o.b. cars at Vancouver. They must be in by noon Oct. 12.

Government officials feel that the strike may delay delivery of the steel, thus making it impossible to get P.G.E. trains rolling into Prince George in the autumn of 1951 as scheduled.

Lighting Experts Plan Meetings Here

Kenneth Reid, city superintendent of street lighting, will be the first speaker in a monthly series of lighting study meetings planned by the Vancouver Island branch of the Illuminating Engineering Society starting Oct. 11.

He will address the society at the Douglas Hotel on Victoria's proposed street re-lighting program.

Other topics to be discussed at future meetings include lighting fundamentals, commercial lighting application, industrial lighting application, office and school lighting, color in lighting and lighting for the home.

Hit-Run Drivers

Two reports were received by city police during the week-end about damage done to parked cars by hit-and-run drivers. G. B. Patterson, 620 Broughton Street, reported about $100 damage done to his car. A dump truck is reported to have collided with the car owned by R. F. Dunton, 1228 Fort Street, and kept on going. A witness was able to furnish police with a description of the truck.

Third Application To Boost Gas Price; Garages Ask Another Half-Cent Mark-Up

A third application seeking an increase in the price of gasoline—this time from the retailers—was filed today with the provincial government. They asked a half cent a gallon more.

In the meantime it was learned from Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the gasoline price-fixing Coal and Petroleum Control Board, that the board's ruling on one of the previous applications may be known Wednesday. This would be on the application of the oil companies for a price boost (the largest asked is 1.6 cents per gallon) to cover the devaluation of the Canadian dollar.

But at the same time Dr. Carrothers admitted he board's ruling may not be made for a few days if the oil companies, in their application, have failed to take into consideration the fact that an eastern section of the province is supplied with Alberta-produced gasoline on which the increase to cover devaluation would not be justified.

The Garage and Motor Trades Association of British Columbia, representing the garage operators of the province, today sent a delegation to the provincial cabinet to present a brief asking a half-cent-a-gallon increase in the mark-up allowed retailers. At the present time the allowed mark-up is 4½ cents in Victoria and Vancouver districts and 5½ cents in most other parts of the province.

The third application is that of the oil companies for an increase to make up for the losses which they claim they are incurring because of tumbling heavy fuel oil prices south of the border.

OPERATING COSTS RISE

The garage operators claimed that operating costs had risen considerably since the last mark-up adjustment, made in February of last year, when the wholesale price of gasoline was adjusted.

"These costs are mainly due to increased wages (about 80 per cent increase since 1939), also increased rents, particularly to the leased stations," said the brief. "Many operators have suffered two substantial rent increases since the oil companies were granted their price increase in February, 1948."

The increase now asked, the association said, would represent an increase in gross profits of 25 per cent since 1939, whereas the cost of operation had increased considerably more since that time.

But the association made it clear that it would oppose any move to decontrol the price control and margin protection afforded by the board.

"Any decontrol in margin," said the brief, "would immediately result in a chaotic price situation . . ."

The brief said that it would affect many veterans, who since the war had obtained licenses, and would result in many dealers being unable to maintain the satisfactory service so essential to the motoring public.

"We would be under the thumb of the oil companies, who, to say the least, do not discourage price-cutting by the retailers," said the brief. "The aim appears to be gallonage, no matter at what cost to the retailer."

". . . should the cabinet consider our request favorably, Dr. Carrothers has said he will not object to a five-cent fixed margin to the retailer," said the brief.

A majority of the major oil companies in British Columbia have applied for adjustments in gasoline prices because crude oil and gasoline from the U.S. now are costing more Canadian dollars.

Predictions are that the price increase to be allowed by the board will be at least 1 cent a gallon. One forecast was that the price would go up 2 cents a gallon but Dr. Carrothers today spiked this report by saying that no company had applied for that increase.

EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

It is considered likely that the board will rule that the new prices will become effective almost at once.

Dr. Carrothers also made it clear that the board at this time will not deal with the applications of several oil companies to increase the price of gasoline to cover the losses they claim they have incurred by falling heavy fuel oil prices.

These applications involve a policy question—whether gasoline users should be required to subsidize heavy fuel oil users. Dr. Carrothers said that the board would make exhaustive surveys before ruling on this question.

Already coal companies and the B.C. Automobile Association have protested the granting of such an application.

Breach Of Contract Suit Opens In Court

The breach of contract suit laid by William H. Munsie, retired logger, against James Cameron, logger, and William Kennedy, real estate agent, opened in Supreme Court before Mr Justice N. W. Whittaker today.

Munsie testified the two defendants agreed to buy up all his charges of the M. & K. Logging Co., Saturna Island, for the sum of $2,400. He alleged the pair failed to live up to the agreement of buying the shares from him after he had relinquished all interest in the company.

The witness stated that, prior to June, 1948, he was president of the logging company, with Mr. Kennedy as vice-president, and Mr. Cameron as secretary-treasurer. He claimed the two men had made an agreement to buy his 34 shares from him.

The defendants claim they did not buy the shares because there was a clause in the agreement which gave then the option of refusing to take the shares with in a month's time.

The case is continuing.

Floating Hat Not Missing Man's

Although Thomas Belford, 39, of 39 Ontario Street, was known to be wearing a fedora hat when he was placed on the missing list one week ago, the one found floating near Brotchie Ledge Sunday evening did not belong to him, city detectives report. It was found by Victor Smith, 1209 Juno Street.

Police fear that Belford has drowned somewhere in the straits waters. A 11-foot boat he had permission to use was missing the same day. An oar belonging to the boat was found late last week on the Dallas Road waterfront.

To Address Chamber

The story of Canada's development from the time of early settlement to the present day will be told to members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at their monthly meeting Friday by Stuart Richardson, Monteral.

Born and educated in England, Mr. Richardson went to sea at an early age. It was 10 years later when he decided to return to land and chose to come to Canada.

Today Mr. Richardson is public relations assistant for Northern Electric Company.

The chamber meeting will take the form of a luncheon and will be held at noon in Lougheed's Banquet Club.

Speakers' Group Elects Officers

M. F. Lougheed was elected chairman of the Capital City Speakers' Group for the coming season when 19 members held their inaugural meeting Monday evening at Lougheed's Hall.

Other officers chosen were Ralph Davis, vice-chairman, and Henry Watson, secretary-treasurer.

Mayor Percy George, a charter member of the group, was one of the main speakers at the dinner meeting. He spoke on "Public Speaking" and told of the lessons he had learned in the years he has held public office.

It was decided to hold meetings every Monday evening in the City Council chambers.

Professional Named

Lois Hardy of Saskatoon has been appointed professional for the Victoria Figure Skating Club, secretary Bud Hocking announced today.

Club will open the season Saturday with classes for juniors from 1 to 2.45. Senior members of the club will commence activities Sunday from 6 to 8.

Ex-Solon Manager Del Baker Rumored As Seattle Pilot

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Del Baker resigned as pilot of the Sacramento Solons Monday—but may be rehired.

Baker asked for a release from his contract with the Solons, which still has a year to run. Club president Ed Sparks said the majority stockholders agreed to let Baker go.

But Sparks said he and his associates will do everything in their power to get Baker to return in 1950.

Baker's resignation as field manager followed close upon the heels of the ouster of business manager Victoria (Cookie) Devincenzi, whose contract was bought up by the Solon management.

"I felt that I should ask for my release to clarify the situation," Baker said. "I will gladly entertain any future proposition the owners make to me."

Baker piloted the Solons to third place in the Pacific Coast League this season. He has been rumored as a successor for manager Joe McCarthy of the Boston Red Sox, who failed to win the hoped-for American League pennant this year.

At Seattle, the Post-Intelligencer said Monday night that Baker's resignation may pave the way for him to be signed as pilot of Seattle Rainiers.

The Post-Intelligencer said it was in touch with Baker by telephone after his resignation was announced, and was told:

"I expect to contact Earl Sheely, general manager of the Rainiers, in New York City Wednesday at the opening of the world series. I have made no commitments. . . . But if the right kind of proposition comes along in the majors I will naturally consider it seriously."

Tallest Fish Story

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (BUP)—A retired fisherman of Westport, N.Z., drew a prize for the tallest fish story of the season: He caught crayfish with an ordinary household ladder.

"I just hang the ladder over the side of my boat," he said. "I put small bait on the bottom rung and bigger bait on the upper rungs. The crays simply walk up the ladder and I knock 'em off into my boat."

Staying With Sox, Joe McCarthy Says

BOSTON (AP)—Joe McCarthy dropped broad hints that he intends to stay as manager of the Red Sox.

Loyalty of the Boston fans touched McCarthy as more than 2,000 booters greeted the beaten Sox on the team's return from New York Sunday.

As he looked over the friendly crowd, McCarthy remarked:

"We never had a reception like this when I was with the Yankees and we were winners."

A sportswriter asked "How about next year, are you coming back?"

"If you want me back," replied Joe, "you write it."

McCarthy's two-year contract with the Red Sox expires this season.

But general manager Joe Cronin of the Sox has told reporters that McCarthy can stay as long as he wants to.

Robinson Captures N.L. Batting Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson, 29-year-old spark plug and second baseman of champion Brooklyn Dodgers, is the National League's unofficial batting king of 1949.

Robinson, in his third season of major-league company, wound up the torrid pennant race with a smart .342, three points higher than defending champion Stan Musial of the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals posted.

Dodger speedster pounded out 203 hits in 593 trips to the plate. Among his blows were 16 home runs, 12 triples and 38 doubles.

POLLEN-CARRIERS

Insects do most of the cross-fertilizing of flowers, although humming birds and bats frequently perform the job. Even snails have been known to carry pollen.

Stengel Invited To Series As Guest Of Dodger Management

NEW YORK (AP)—Guy Lombardo and his orchestra have been engaged to play at the world series. The "Royal Canadians" will sit in centrefield at the Yankee Stadium and play for 40 minutes before each game.

Today is a big day in Brooklyn. The Dodgers will be feted by borough president John Cashmore and the citizenry with a parade through the downtown section.

Officials said it would be "an orderly and dignified ceremony in keeping with the spirit of Brooklyn."

Just to be on the safe side, though, 1,500 police have been ordered on duty.

Four members of the Brooklyn team that won the pennant in 1916 will watch the world series as guests of the Dodger management.

They are: John Meyers, San Bernardino, Calif., catcher; George Cutshaw, Bramley, Calif., second baseman; William Dell, Los Angeles, pitcher, and Ivy Olson, Los Angeles, shortstop.

Yankee manager Casey Stengel, a player on the 1916 Brooklyn team, was invited, too.

Lewicki Threatened With Suspension If Leaf Terms Not Met

MONTREAL (CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Monday that if Danny Lewicki fails to meet the terms of his present agreement with Toronto Maple Leafs "he definitely will be suspended from both professional and amateur hockey."

Campbell was commenting on a report from Stratford, Ont., that Lewicki, promising junior ice star from Fort William, Ont., was demanding a Maple Leaf contract calling for $10,000 a year for two seasons plus a $2,500 bonus for signing.

The Leafs offered Lewicki $4,000 a season for two years plus $2,000 for signing.

"Lewicki already has signed an agreement with the Leafs and terms are continued in that agreement," the N.H.L. president told the Canadian Press. "That agreement is the N.H.L. form C which gives Leafs the right to negotiate for his services as a pro. Less than two months ago, Lewicki renewed his form C agreement with the Leafs."

Campbell said he had not, as yet, received any word on the latest developments on the case from either the Leafs or Lewicki. Earlier today, Conny Smythe, boss of the Leafs, said in Toronto that he had turned the case over to Campbell.

Ray Frederick To Protect Net For Edmonton Flyers

WINNIPEG (CP)—A reliable source said today that goalie Ray Frederick would be paid $7,000 this season for playing with Edmonton Flyers of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League.

Frederick was a standout last season with the junior Brandon Wheat Kings, who bowed in the Canadian final to Montreal Royals. Frederick had been bought for goal duty with Pittsburgh Hornets of the American League but decided on the Edmonton offer.

Bevin Declares Modern Britain Young Country

OTTAWA (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin cried defiance at Britain's critics today and argued that "we are producing a Britain that is not decadent but young and vigorous, that will regard herself not as a mother country but as one of you."

"The term mother implies age," he told Ottawa's Canadian Club. "It implies a passing on. We've revived ourselves . . . so we'll be equal with you (Dominions). We're not an old country. We're a young country now."

In a recitation of Britain's progress against the "stupendous" obstacles of the last four years, he said:

"When they tell me that a country that has achieved what we have in those years is decadent I say 'Come and see us sometime and be surprised'."

Mercurys Will Wear Distinctive Sweaters

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Waterloo Mercurys, Canada's representatives in the world amateur hockey championships at London, Eng., next year will wear distinctive Canadian sweaters, club officials said today.

The 1948-49 Western Canada Intermediate "A" champions will sport red, white and blue jerseys with the Maple Leaf emblem on the front and the word Canada on the back.

Although Mercurys are not scheduled to sail until Dec. 30 they are already holding regular workouts.

Unlimited Time Given Miss Canada To Set Record

PICTON, Ont. (CP) — Miss Canada IV, challenger for the world speedboat record, has been granted unlimited extension to track the 141.7 miles-an-hour mark set 10 years ago. In effect, the boat may make any number of attempts a day indefinitely until the old record is exceeded.

"This is the referee's authority to postpone and extend the sanction from day to day until you get suitable weather," driver Harold Wilson was informed in a telegram received late today from Art Bobrick of Los Angeles, chairman of the inboard racing commission of the American Powerboat Association.

Previously, Miss Canada had been allowed only three trials a day, weather permitting, over a three-day period starting last Saturday.

In his telegram, Bobrick said the American record of 138.6 miles an hour made here Saturday over the Picton Bay mile course had been officially recognized by the A.P.B.A.

Wilson called off today's attempt as a result of unfavorable water conditions.

Allie Reynolds To Pitch For Yankees In Opening Game

By LEO. H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—The New York Yankees today named 17-game winner Allie Reynolds to open the World Series tomorrow, but Manager Burt Shotton of the Brooklyn Dodgers refused to reveal his starting pitcher.

Shotton said he would not announce his selection until "just before game time."

However, it was virtually certain that either lefty Preacher Roe or negro rookie Don Newcombe would draw the assignment for the Dodgers in the opening game of the series at Yankee Stadium.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers faced the loss of slugging outfielder Cal Furillo for the first game of the series, and perhaps the second. Shotton listed Furillo in his starting line-up for tomorrow, but at Yankee Stadium, where the Dodgers were working out, it was a different story.

Furillo, hitting .322 for the season and close to .400 for the last month, suffered an injured ankle last week and aggravated it in the last game at Philadelphia. Today he said, "I can't stride, I can't bend—I can't play this way."

Trainer Harold E. Windler agreed that Furillo could not play in the shape he appeared today, but added that he might be able to tape up the injury so that Furillo could start.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees named his starting line-up, but had to include three alternate selections because he did not know whether his team would be facing right or left-handed pitching.

As usual, Phil Rizzuto will lead off at shortstop for the Yanks. First Baseman Tommy Henrich will bat second, and catcher Vogi Berra third. Joe DiMaggio, back in good health for his centrefield job, will be in his familiar clean-up spot.

Behind him comes either left handed Bobby Brown or right hander Billy Johnson, depending upon the Dodger pitcher. In the No. 6 spot will be Johnny Lindell or Gene Woodling and next in order Cliff Maples or Hank Bauer, playing right field. Next comes Cecond Baseman Gerry Coleman and batting last will be Pitcher Reynolds.

DODGER LINE-UP

Since Stengel committed himself on his pitcher, Shotton was able to announce a definite starting line-up for Brooklyn, the one usually used against right handers.

It will be Peewee Reese at shortstop, Johnny Jorgensen at third base, Duke Snider in centrefield, Jackie Robinson at second base, Gene Hermanski in left field, Carl Furillo in right, Gil Hodges at first, Roy Campanella catching, and the pitcher, whoever he may be.

The umpires for the opening game also were designated. It will be senior American League Umpire Cal Hubbard behind the plate, John (Beans) Reardon of the National League, who has announced his retirement after the World Series, at first base, young Art Passarella of the American League at second base and slender Lou Jorda of the National League at third.

The alternate umpires will work the foul lines. They are Ed Hurley of the American League who will be in right field tomorrow, and George Barr of the National who will be in left.

They will alternate their positions each day. The plate and base umpires will rotate from day to day.

The betting odds favored the Yankees, but both managers and the players agreed the series will be as close as the pennant races.

C.C.L. Proposes Equal Pay For Men And Women

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Congress of Labor today called for equal pay for men and women.

A resolution adopted at the C.C.L. annual convention asked that Congress unions incorporate a clause to this effect in future wage contracts.

In a series of other resolutions adopted at the afternoon session, the Congress also:

1. Urged co-operation between labor and leading farm organizations, in view of their common objectives in social security and the maintenance of purchasing power.

2. Went on record as advocating payment of workers on all statutory holidays.

3. Urged union members to buy goods bearing union-made labels.

4. Decided to press demands for a minimum two weeks' holidays annually after one year of employment. Governments will be asked to enact similar holiday legistlation to that of Saskatchewan.

5. Re-establishment of rent controls at their wartime effectiveness until the housing situation returns to normal.

6. Asked for re-imposition of government subsidies on milk, bread and other staples.

New Electoral Chief

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons this afternoon unanimously approved the appointment of Nelson Castonguay, 35-year-old former naval officer, as Canada's chief electoral officer, succeeding his father, Jules Castonguay.

Jules Castonguay, 67, who has administered the country's election machinery for 22 years, has resigned because of ill health.

Honorable Mention

SEATTLE (CP)—Artist Peggy Walton Packard of Victoria, B.C., today won an "honorable" mention in the 35th annual Exhibition of Pacific Northwest Artists here.

Another Witness Says Proposition Was Put To Him

QUEBEC (CP)—Evidence that J. Albert Guay, charged with murder in the Sept. 9 bomb-plot air disaster, gave a friend a parcel to take to the Quebec airport was presented today at the preliminary hearing of the 32-year-old Quebec jeweler.

The witness was Mrs. Arthur Pitre, 41, who admitted on the witness stand that she had bought dynamite at Guay's request.

In the preliminary hearing which was adjourned late today until 10.30 a.m. tomorrow, the Crown is trying to prove that Guay arranged for explosives to be placed aboard a Canadian Pacific Airlines plane.

The plane crashed after a mid air explosion and 23 were killed, including Guay's wife. Guay is charged specifically with the murder of his wife.

Mrs. Pitre, who faces a charge of attempted suicide, told of Guay's relationship with a girl variously named as Marie-Ange Robitaille and Nicolle Cote.

The charge against Mrs. Pitre arose from an overdose of sleeping tablets for which she was treated in a Quebec Hospital two weeks ago. Police questioned her and arrested Guay. She gave her evidence today after asking protection of the court.

MADE PROPOSITION

Her testimony was heard shortly after another witness named Lucien Carreau, a young needle worker, testified that Guay made him a proposition last April.

He said Guay had some poison in a bag and some cherry wine and asked Careau to give it to Mrs. Guay. Careau said Guay told him he would pay him $500.

The needle worker said he refused and then Guay offered him $50 to keep "his mouth shut."

SAYS $100 OFFERED

Careau said he met Guay again nine days after the disaster. He said Guay told him "something like the death of his wife was good riddance" and that there was some "insurance."

He said Guay then offered him $100 to "shut up" about what he knew.

Careau testified late in the afternoon of the preliminary hearing after a long string of witnesses had testified about Guay buying an airline ticket and insurance on his wife. Other witnesses told of the investigation of the plane wreckage at Sault au Cochon 40 miles east of here.

Swinging Co-Ed Upsets Engineer's Crime Thrill

CHICAGO (UP) — A well-paid engineer who began a life of crime "just for a thrill" confessed today that a bottle-swinging coed and her plucky boy friend stopped him cold on his first hold-up attempt.

Bearing two black eyes and reeking of cleaning fluid, Ernest B. Knight, 44, a well-thought-of resident of suburban Naperville told Dupage County authorities he "decided to rob someone just to see what it was like."

Knight, who earns $430 a month as a designing engineer, was charged with armed robbery and held to the grand jury on $5,000 bond.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Roland Hall credited Rose Hodel, 21, Beckley, W.Va., and her companion Dwight Freshley, Naperville, with thwarting the hold-up attempt in a forest preserve.

Miss Hodel, by coincidence, was the dormitory room-mate of Knight's step-daughter Marla Bett at North Central College in the town. But she said she had not met Knight nor had ever been in his $18,000 home in the suburb.

Masked, carrying a four-foot length of rope, and armed with a revolver, Knight yanked open the door of Freshley's car and told the young couple, "This is a stick-up."

But the 24-year-old speech student at the college grabbed for Knight's revolver, knocking the cylinder out of it. Then he began to beat Knight, Hall said.

"Hit him with something," Freshley shouted to Miss Hodel. She grabbed a bottle of fluid Freshley used to clean tar from his auto and shattered it over Knight's head. Knight fled.

Driving from the scene, the young couple noticed an unoccupied auto parked nearby and reported the license number to police.

Almost simultaneously, Knight telephoned that his new automobile had been stolen. The license number was the same.
